WEATHER

Mostly sunny skies and warmer temperatures are expected today with the high temperature near 70.

Top Of The Morning

WEATHER

Sunny and warm is today's forecast with the high temperature reading expected to be near 70 and the overnight low near 50. The extended forecast for Saturday through Wednesday indicates temperatures will average normal or a little below with day time high readings between 70 and 75 and the night time low in the 50's. Temperatures will be warm over the weekend turning cooler about Monday. Showers are expected during the weekend and again in the middle of the week. Thursday's 7 a.m. report: high, 60; low, 50; there was .03 inches of precipitation recorded. The river level was 4.0 feet and rising.

KINZUA DAM REPORT

Pool level 1330.51 feet (desired summer pool level 1328 feet; maximum 1365 feet). Outflow temperature 55 degrees. Upper reservoir 56 degrees. The reading at the Warren gauge 3.99 feet.

WARREN COUNTY

Three flags, a memorial to those who journeyed here in the past and an attraction for those who will come in the future, were dedicated Thursday in impressive ceremonies at Crescent Park.

The U.S. Forest Service may soon come under the jurisdiction of the Dept. of the Interior, expediting the installation of recreational facilities on Forest Service lands.

U.S. Senator Joseph S. Clark discussed the War in Vietnam; the crisis in our cities; and the threat to the dollar at a news conference Thursday prior to the dedication of the three flags.

Eric W. Cook, British Consul, Cleveland, Ohio, represented Her Majesty's government at the dedication of the Three flags in Crescent Park Thursday.

Count Reginald deWarren, represented the government of France, at the dedication of the Three Flags conducted Thursday at Crescent Park.

THE NATION

The Navy abandons a special Atlantic search for the source of a mysterious voice broadcast that purported to be from the missing nuclear submarine Scorpion; there is widespread feeling that the radio transmission may have been a cruel hoax.

THE WORLD

President Charles de Gaulle dissolved Parliament Thursday and declared he will stay in office to combat an attempt by "totalitarian communism" to take over the strikebound nation.

Frenchmen strike back, hard, in a massive and impressive demonstration for President Charles de Gaulle which could mark the beginning of a backlash against the elements which have brought this nation to the edge of paralysis.

The United States and North Vietnam meet for a sixth time Friday but the talks may have to be moved from Paris in the next few weeks if France's political agonies worsen.

New fighting breaks out on Saigon's north side and tank-led South Vietnamese marines maneuver to block Viet Cong from escaping the city.

SPORTS

Bobby Unser set a record as he won his first Indianapolis 500 on Memorial Day. The turbines again failed to come through in the race.

Bob Schnars won his third Hyle Russell Memorial Race at Stateline. Favored Ron Blackmer rolled over when a few short yards from the finish line.

The pros keep showing up the amateurs in the French Tennis championships in Paris. Women pros do especially well against the amateurs.

Nichols now leads the City Softball League with a 2 won, no loss, record. Nichols defeated the Sons of Italy in a Memorial Day game.

Eisenhower High School girls won the second annual Ike Invitational Tourney. Nine records were tied or broken.

Flags Raised in Crescent Park During Impressive Ceremonies

Three flags were raised 70 feet atop stainless steel poles in dedication ceremonies at Crescent Park Thursday — a memorial to those who journeyed here in the past and an attraction for those who will come in the future.

Count Reginald deWarren, French consul general said he and Gen. Joseph Warren, the Bunker Hill hero after whom Warren was named, share the same family tree which has roots in Normandy and England. He cited Celoron de Blainville, who first planted the banner of the Bourbon family on Warren soil over two hundred years ago, as the kind of man who will meet and face the challenges of the world today.

The Colonial Jack, the flag borne by the British settlers who moved into the Allegheny River valley after the French and Indian War, was presented by Eric W. Cook, Her Majesty's consul in Cleveland, Ohio. Cook declared pride on the part of Great Britain for its share in molding the United States and noted the amiable feelings that exist between the two nations. The Beaty Dugaree Band played "God Save the Queen," while the blue banner bearing the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew was raised.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark presented the Betsy Ross Flag, the earliest flag of the American Republic. "This part of Pennsylvania is our state's new frontier for growth and development," Clark said.

He symbolized the ceremony as an announcement of this area to capitalize upon the rich history and recreation potential of the area. He said the Shortway would provide a southern gateway to this region and called for development of a scenic route along the Allegheny from Pittsburgh and establishment of Rt. 6 as an historical and scenic route crossing the northern tier.

The flags were raised by a Marine colorguard, consisting of recruiting sergeants from Warren, Dunkirk and Jamestown.

Guests at the ceremony were Rep. Albert W. Johnson, congressman from the 23rd Congressional District; Assemblyman William W. Allen; State Sen. Richard Frame; James Stevenson, chairman of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission; Mayor Donald E. Conaway, president

HISTORY UNFURLED

The flags of the three countries who have laid claim to the Allegheny River valley in the past 200 years, France, Great Britain and the United States, fly 70 feet above the large crowd that turned out in Crescent Park yesterday for dedication of the three flags. William Clinger Jr., who was master of ceremonies for the program, said a fourth flag was in order, that of the Iroquois Confederacy which ruled here before Europe knew the new world existed. The Three Flags was a project of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau and the Warren County Historical Society. See other stories on Page 11. (Photo by Mahan) of the county historical society and W. LeRoy Schneck, president of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Norman Smith, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church, and the benediction by the Rev. Nelson Beck, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of North Warren. The three flags project and dedication was a joint effort of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau and the Warren County Historical Society. The committee for the event included William F. Clinger Jr., chairman, T. Kenneth Stratton, vice chairman, Robert C. Dilks, Frank A. Fago, Jeremy S. Fisher, Richard W. Foster, Pegge, Harold Johnson, Henry LeMeur, Ernest C. Miller, Victor L. Miller, William Pasquerette, Gilbert H. Reier, William E. Rice, W. LeRoy Schneck and Charles R. Tranter.

Forest Service May Come Under Interior Dept.

The U.S. Forest Service will very likely soon come under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior, Sen. Joseph S. Clark said Thursday.

The forest service is currently a part of the Department of Agriculture. Chances would be better for quick action on the recreational aspects of the Forest Service's activities "if we can get them away from grazing cows," Clark said.

The senator cited three projects currently under way in Pennsylvania each being built by competing government agencies suggesting some centralization was in order.

Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington is currently working on legislation that would authorize the reorganization, Clark said.

If the change would expedite installation of recreational facilities on Forest Service lands, Warren county should be among the first to feel the impact of the reorganization.

Two Trailers Blow Up; Four Injured

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two house trailers parked 20 feet apart blew up in a span of a few seconds Thursday, injuring four persons, three seriously. The first explosion occurred in a trailer where a woman was trying to light a propane gas stove to cook breakfast. It triggered the second blast.

Both trailers were owned by brothers on a family camping trip at nearby Pymatung State Park.

State police said Mrs. Marlene Herman, 25, of Pittsburgh was trying to ignite the stove. She and her children, Charles, 5, and Deborah, 3, were admitted to Meadville City Hospital in guarded condition. They suffered burns of the hands and face.

Mrs. Eleanor Herman, 26, also of Pittsburgh, suffered a burned foot. She was in the second trailer. The two brothers were not in the area.

Hope Fades for USS Scorpion; Broadcast May Have Been Hoax

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Navy abandoned a special Atlantic search Thursday for the source of a mysterious voice broadcast that purported to be from the missing nuclear submarine Scorpion.

There was widespread feeling among officers here that the radio transmission may have been a cruel hoax.

Six ships and a search plane picked up the single broadcast at 8:28 p.m. Wednesday.

It was a rather routine state-ment except that it used the code name for the Scorpion, which has been overdue since Monday and pronounced missing with its crew of 99.

However, the Scorpion's code name has been used frequently in radio communications between search vessels.

An announcement issued jointly by Atlantic fleet headquarters and the Pentagon in Washington said:

"Throughout last night four destroyers and a patrol aircraft conducted a thorough search for approximately 150 nautical miles east northeast along the reported bearing of the voice transmission which was heard at 8:28 yesterday evening by an aircraft and six ships.

"The transmission was brief and only USS Lapon, 300 nautical miles east of Norfolk, obtained a possible bearing.

"This extensive search failed to discover any evidence of the source of the transmission and was discontinued as a separate effort early this morning."

The Lapon is a nuclear-powered submarine.

Meanwhile the huge sea hunt for the Scorpion continued with the navy shifting focus from the relatively shallow continental shelf—where the submarine might have survived—to the depths eastward—where it is doubtful its hull could withstand the enormous pressures.

The message, as monitored by the Navy, said: "Any station this network: This is (then the code word for Scorpion was given).

New Fighting Breaks Out On Saigon's North Side

SAIGON (AP) — New fighting broke out on Saigon's north side Friday and tank-led South Vietnamese marines maneuvered to block Viet Cong from escaping the city.

Two enemy companies—perhaps 250 men—were reported holed up in the Gia Dinh area, 2.5 miles northeast of the center of the capital, the same residential sector where fighting erupted last Saturday and continued for four days.

From the scene, Associated Press correspondent John T. Wheeler reported the Viet-namese marines had killed 30 Viet Cong and captured three since daybreak.

He said the marines were trying to surround the infiltrators and that tanks had been moved in to block exits to the district.

Scores of refugees fled from the Gia Dinh area, some for the fourth time since the enemy's lunar new year offensive four months ago.

Meanwhile Vietnamese rangers and marines pressed mop-up operations against Viet Cong diehards in the southwest section of the capital and allied commanders reported a series of ground engagements within a 30-mile radius of the city.

Australian infantrymen reported killing 45 enemy 25 miles northeast of Saigon on Thursday while taking "very light casualties." The U.S. Command said a U.S.-Vietnamese force killed 27 enemy 30 miles northwest of the capital. It said four Americans were killed and government casualties were light.

RFK, McCarthy Agree to TV Debate

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, contenders in the California presidential primary, have agreed to a nationally televised debate Saturday night, ABC said today.

The one-hour debate will originate live from the studios of KGO-TV in San Francisco. It will be seen in the Eastern, Central and Mountain time zones at 9:30 p.m. EDT and a taped broadcast will be shown at 9:30 p.m. local time later on the West Coast.

DeGaulle Stays; Parliament Dissolved

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle dissolved Parliament Thursday and declared he will stay in office to combat an attempt by "totalitarian communism" to take over the strikebound nation. Then he slapped tight temporary controls on the movement of French capital—money checks or gold—abroad to "assure the defense of national interests."

Apparently assured of the support of France's fighting forces, the 77-year-old De Gaulle hinted he might use the army to break the stranglehold of the general strike by 10 million workers.

His voice harsh with anger, De Gaulle said in a radio speech to his countrymen, "France is indeed threatened with dictatorship," but he added, "I shall not withdraw... the republic will not abdicate."

Little more than an hour later, the general's supporters were out by the hundreds of thousands to cheer his name and march from the Place de la Concorde to the Arch of Triumph at the Etoile.

The exchange controls, the first public action by the government after De Gaulle's declaration to bring order to the country, went into effect at midnight.

A decree-law forbade the export of all capital from France except with the permission of the Ministry of Finance and banned any Frenchman from holding bank accounts abroad without special authorization.

All earnings of foreign currency by residents of France through the sale of merchandise or otherwise must be turned in to the French foreign exchange market immediately for conversion into francs.

The drastic action was obviously taken to halt the flow of Frenchmen into Switzerland with suitcases of francs for exchange into foreign currencies.

The crisis has brought the franc to its floor level of 4,974 francs to the dollar. Banks in Italy, West Germany and Switzerland have already suspended dealings in francs at the request of the Bank of France.

De Gaulle, riding roughshod over a growing demand from workers, students and most political parties for the resignation of the government, said he was maintaining Premier Georges Pompidou in power. He authorized him, though, to make whatever changes needed to strengthen his government.

Soon after his speech, Frenchmen by the hundreds of thousands filled the Champs Elysees, Paris' broadest avenue, packing it sidewalk to sidewalk for 1.2 miles with people chanting, shouting and singing "De Gaulle is not alone," "France go Back to Work."

De Gaulle leaned out a window of the Elysee Palace to hear the demonstrators chanting his name. The demonstration grew as buses from the provinces arrived with still more banner-carrying De Gaulle supporters.

Frenchmen Demonstrate For DeGaulle

PARIS (AP) — The quiet Frenchmen struck back, hard, Thursday in a massive and impressive demonstration for President Charles de Gaulle. It could mark the beginning of a backlash against the elements which have brought this nation to the edge of paralysis.

By hundreds of thousands they poured into the broad and elegant Avenue des Champs Elysees, a sea of people and French flags. They packed the avenue for the entire mile and a half from across the Place de la Concorde to the Arch de Triomphe.

It was all for De Gaulle, a demonstration which rivaled any that have been held in this turbulent capital since the beginning of the crisis which has idled something close to 10 million workers.

Peace Talks Resume Fri.; Deadlock Break Doubtful

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam will meet for a sixth time Friday on Vietnamese peace issues, but the talks may have to be moved from Paris in the next few weeks if France's political agonies worsen.

The United States and North Vietnam so far officially have ignored the French domestic crisis.

The delegations have gone about their business in a world apart from the demonstrations of students and workers and the street battles. But the negotiating teams depend on the French economy for food and services and, so far as is known, rely primarily on French facilities for communications.

A Vatican official, noting the possibility that the conference might have to be moved, said Thursday that Pope Paul's offer of the Vatican as a site is still open.

In advance of Friday's session, there was no evidence in Paris that either side was prepared to modify its position enough to make a breakthrough in the present deadlock.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam last met on Monday. Following that session, Harriman's deputy, Cyrus R. Vance, returned to Washington and reported to President Johnson.

Johnson subsequently said it was time for the talks to move beyond the propaganda stage and come to grips with real issues.

The central issues include Hanoi's demand that the U.S. end its attacks on Northern territory. The bombing and shelling are now restricted to the pan-handle below the 20th Parallel. The United States has demanded that North Vietnam respond with some reduction in military operations. This demand has been rejected.

Lost Child Is Found Unharmed

A three-year-old Erie girl, who with her parents was spending the weekend camping in the Grand Valley area, became the subject of an intensive search Thursday when she was reported missing about 10:30 a.m.

Mary Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wheeler, 323 E. 24th st., Erie wandered off shortly after 9 a.m. Thursday and was first discovered missing by her parents about 9:30 a.m.

At 10:30 a.m. after a futile search the parents called for help from the Grand Valley Volunteer Fire Department. Approximately 25 volunteers joined in the search supervised by Grand Valley Fire Chief, Charles Hollabaugh.

At 11:45 Mary was found, walking unharmed in a field on a hill north of Grand Valley by volunteer fireman Dillon Vroman, and returned to her parents.

Just prior to the announcement that the girl had been found the Garland Volunteer Fire Dept. was called in to assist the Grand Valley firemen. Garland responded to the call with their emergency truck and six men.

Mishap Results

In $1385 Damage

Minor injuries and an estimated $1385 total damage resulted from a two car accident Thursday on Pennsylvania ave. E. near South st. according to borough police.

Sharon Cashner, Hammond st., ext., a passenger in a car operated by Toni Lee Massa, 17, 17 Carver st. suffered a whip lash injury when the Massa car was struck from behind by a car driven by Charles E. Crooks, 28, Tiona, police stated. The accident occurred at 3:53 p.m.

Charge Filed

Borough police chief has filed a larceny charge against Jack Bedow, 19, of 109 West st., Titusville.

The charge stemmed from the alleged theft of three tires and wheels in the early morning hours of May 20.

Evan said the tires and wheels were taken from one car at the Market street plaza; one at 1012 Spring st. and the third at 501 Beech st.

The property was recovered, the chief stated.

No Injuries

In Local Mishap

An accident at 1:39 a.m. Thursday caused damages totaling $500 to vehicles operated by James Frank Pomplilio, 20, 15 Cedar st., Warren and Anthony Dignazio, 39, Penn st., Pittsburgh, Pa.

According to borough police the accident occurred as the Pomplilio vehicle, traveling east on Pennsylvania ave., attempted a left turn onto South st., and was struck from behind by the Dignazio car.

Damage to the Pomplilio car was set at $150, police said, while damage to the Dignazio vehicle was cited at $350. There were no injuries reported.

Police said Pomplilio will be charged with failure to signal a turn, while Dignazio is being charged with following too close.

Selected to Attend Archaeology Inst.

Sally Ziegler, a student at Tidoute High School, is one of 30 students selected to attend a field archaeology institute, provided under contract with the National Science Foundation, at Clarion State College. Borough Firemen responded to an alarm at 2:40 p.m. Thursday when a fire broke out on the second floor of a vacant house, owner unknown, at the corner of Carbon and Union streets. Fourteen men with two engines and the ladder truck responded to the alarm. The fire was confined to the second floor of a spokesman at the department stated. Cause of the fire, and the amount of damage has not been determined. Firemen are continuing their investigation. The department was on the scene approximately an hour and a half. (Photo by Mahan)

Chautauqua's Political Fever Expected to Rise Sharply

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — The political fever of Chautauqua County is expected to rise sharply within the next three weeks. On the Democratic side supporters of all three presidential candidates have opened headquarters in downtown Jamestown. While the city and county Republican committees are both pledged to Gov. Rockefeller a group of county Republicans announced Wednesday it plans to seek support for former vice president Richard Nixon.

Supporters of Senator Robert F. Kennedy have opened a headquarters on east Third st., with a staff headed by Robert J. Pasciullo, Lakewood. In the Brooklyn Square area a headquarters for vice president Hubert H. Humphrey was opened earlier this week, while a vacant store on W. Third st., opposite the Hotel Jamestown is serving as headquarters for Senator Eugene McCarthy. All are seeking volunteer workers to help elect delegates to this summer Democratic Convention who will support their candidate. Democratic voters must select which of the three slates of delegates will represent the 38th Congressional District at the national convention. The primary election contests will take place on June 18 between the hours of noon and 9 p.m.

A group of county Republicans who disagree with the action taken by the Jamestown GOP Committee and the county Republican Committee has announced a citizens for Nixon Committee. Robert Dewey, Colburn, and Melvin Payne, Bemus Point, have been elected chairman and vice chairman respectively for the Nixon group. A group spokesman said the purpose of the Nixon committee is to demonstrate to delegates to the national GOP convention in Fla. including Rep. Charles E. Goodell, Jamestown, that the majority of the states Republican voters are not in favor of Gov. Rockefeller. No details are yet available on whether a Nixon slate of delegates will be on the June 18 primary ballot.

Kennedy supporters say their candidate will appear in Jamestown sometime following the California primary. Humphrey backers report the vice president will be in Buffalo within the next two weeks and is also scheduling a brief appearance in Jamestown. The volunteers for Senator McCarthy say they are not sure the Minnesota Senator will make an appearance in Jamestown.

Brakes Fail; Damage Totals $525

Further investigation of an accident Tuesday which resulted in a total of $525 property damage to lawns and shrubs at 108 and 112 Lexington ave. has disclosed the brakes on a car operated by George Mostert, 13 Buchanan st., failed.

According to borough police, Mostert, was traveling east on Lexington ave., jumped the curb crashed through the shrubs at 108 Lexington ave., traveled across the lawn onto the property at 112 Lexington ave. coming to rest in the shrubs at that address. Police said further investigation showed the brakes were faulty, and Mostert brought the vehicle to a halt by using his emergency brake.

Traffic Fatalities Mounting

Near the end of the first 24 rain-dampened hours of the long Memorial Day weekend, traffic fatalities on the nation's highways mounted slowly Thursday.

An early morning fog added to the traffic hazards from the eastern part of the Midwest to the Northeast. In some widely scattered areas funnel clouds, hail and high winds also plagued motorists.

Traffic accident fatalities stood at 77. An Associated Press survey showed that on a recent four-day nonholiday weekend 488 persons died on the nation's streets and highways.

Pleasant Twp. Plans Summer Rec Program

Pleasant Township Supervisors, during a meeting held Tuesday night, formally organized and appointed a recreation committee composed of Donald Wetsch, chairman; Mrs. Robert W. Conn Jr., secretary; Mrs. Harry McHenry, treasurer; Karl Hoffmann and Marshall Morrow.

A supervised summer recreation program for all school age children in the township has been in the planning stages for several months as an out-

Allegheny Campground Is Closed

Allegheny Picnic Site and Campground, located on Route 59 between Rogertown and Kinqua Dam, will not be re-opened this summer, according to Forest Supervisor Ralph Freeman.

"The area is badly deteriorated and major work is needed to bring it into first class condition. Entrance to the area is considered a traffic hazard. Funds that might be used for major rehabilitation of this area will purchase more recreation facilities if spent elsewhere," according to Mr. Freeman.

Picnicking facilities at Kinqua Beach have largely replaced the need for those at Allegheny Campground. The Forest Service has constructed additional camping facilities at Hearts Content, as well as Kiasutha and Willow Bay.

Picnickers and campers should plan to use these areas, as well as Buckaloons and Warr-Penn, rather than the Allegheny Picnic Site.

School Creates Own Movie

Angelo V. DiMino, principal of Jefferson Street School, with the tireless efforts of fifth grade students, has successfully completed the filming of a 25-minute movie in color and sound.

The film is based on the American Revolution and the signing of the Declaration of Independence with authentic props. The factual historical document, requiring much research, have resulted in an excellent production with 24 boys and girls participating.

Settings and background for the film were in and around the school.

Earlier this year, a similar-type student film of the Civil War was shown in Warren by the Warren County Historical Society and previewed at Jefferson school prior to its public showing.

40 Kiwanis Key Club Boys Learn of VFW Activities

Forty Key Club boys, 26 from Youngsville and 14 from Tidoute heard a stirring address by Eugene Manfrey of Warren, Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Manfrey described the activities of VFW in Warren County and throughout the nation. The organization sponsored the GI Bill of Rights, through which many veterans have been rehabilitated; have sponsored on-the-job training for veterans and secured GI loans not only for business but for home building and personal needs.

The speaker stated there is a large scholarship fund available for some veterans who need it. Manfrey described in particular those students who borrowed money to go to college and then rebel against the rules to the point of destroying college property.

At the present time the VFW is urging support of Bill SJ 1 in the U.S. Senate which will permit voluntary Bible reading in schools and public meetings.

Lt. Governor Frank Norman of Erie was also present and led a short panel discussion following the meeting.

Gilbert Sanford, vice president, presided. A spaghetti supper was served by Pastor Jim Dorow assisted by Earl Young, Leo Johnson and Metro Teconchuk.

Robbery By Force

State Police Cpl. William Katner is investigating a case involving robbery by force. Katner said that at about 10:40 p.m. Tuesday, an unidentified subject surprised Alma Marion Grunder, of 969 Pleasant dr., Warren in the bedroom of her home.

The intruder, police said, after threatening the woman, took between $25 and $30 and left.

Eugene Szul of Tidoute, adviser to the Tidoute boys, introduced their members while Max Collins, president of the Youngsville club, performed their introductions. Gary Wood outlined some of the club's activities and Szul described what Tidoute has accomplished. Leo Johnson gave the invocation and Rook Oviatt was pianist.

At the present time the VFW is urging support of Bill SJ 1 in the U.S. Senate which will permit voluntary Bible reading in schools and public meetings.

EMS Baccalaureate Services Scheduled for Sunday

Graduation activities for the class of 1968 of Eisenhower High School begin with Baccalaureate Services at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the school auditorium.

The Rev. John Gardner will be guest speaker and will be assisted by the Rev. Marvin Watson of Lander. The address is titled "Man's Questions and God's Answers."

Mr. Gardner is pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Warren. His original home was Pleasant County, W. Va. Upon completion of high school, he did under-graduate work at Eastern Nazarene College, Quincy, Mass.

The speaker has done extensive youth work and was former youth superintendent of the Nazarene Church. He has served as pastor of various Nazarene Churches for the past 16 years and also traveled to Haiti where he observed missionaries at work for two months in 1966.

The annual senior class picnic will be held Monday at Conneaut Lake Park. The seniors gather Tuesday at Jackson Valley Country Club for the annual dinner and class day activities. will be held Wednesday afternoon in the high school gym.

Climax of graduation week activities will be Commencement exercises at 8 p.m., Thursday, June 6. Weather permitting exercises will be conducted on the high school lawn.

Guest speaker for the commencement program is Victor Kane, a renowned author, lecturer, preacher and outdoorsman.

Mr. Kane has been associated with many schools, colleges and churches during his career and presently resides in Binghamton, N.Y., where he is associated with First Baptist Church.

The commencement speaker is also very active in the Congress of Parents and Teachers and is an honorary life member. Being engaged in community affairs, he lives a very busy life. However, each year he finds time to get away and enjoy the busy country of the Canadian wilds for a few days.

The Rev. John Clark, pastor of the Cable Hollow Church will give the invocation. The program concludes with diplomas presented to 100 seniors by Henry Petersen, a school board director.

$35,000 Budget Proposed For Regional Planning Group

A budget of $35,000 has been proposed for the Northwest Pennsylvania Regional Planning and Development Commission. The tentative budget is for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

This was revealed following a meeting of the commission Monday in Franklin. The counties involved are Venango, Clarion, Crawford, Erie, Forest, Lawrence, Mercer and Warren.

Venango County Commissioner Joseph Levi, treasurer of the organization, said almost all of the budget had been provided by federal and state sources. Each of the eight counties this year have also budgeted funds for the regional development commission.

Strip Mining Hits Home

The proposal by the J. R. Coal Company to start a coal stripping project in the vicinity of Kane has brought statements of concern from both state and federal agencies because of the pollution threat it poses to waters draining into the Kinzua Dam. Of just as much concern is the possibility that the waters of the east branch of Tionesta creek could also be contaminated through improper operational procedures.

As yet the application for a permit to start the stripping has not been issued by the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries. And there is a possibility that a combination of strong protests could perhaps delay the issuance of such a permit indefinitely or permanently. But at a recent meeting in the courthouse by the concerned agencies and other parties a more rational approach was decided upon.

First, the ownership of the coal and the right to take it from the ground by the company was recognized. So no protest against the issuance of a permit will be filed. Instead, a strongly worded demand that the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries stipulate as a condition of the permit that all precautions must be observed by the company and a series of discharge water tests be conducted by a qualified testing laboratory at their ex-

Welfare Crisis--IV

(Fourth in a series of four columns)

Proposals to overhaul our welfare system will be among the key issues both of the 1968 Presidential campaign and of the drive for civil rights. The following Q. & A. is a guide through the baffle.

Q. What is a "system of income maintenance?"

A. It would be a system to provide some benefits to all of the 30,000,000 now below the poverty line of $3,300 for a family of four, not just the 8,000,000 on welfare rolls today, and also to provide social services to those in special need.

There are many who believe that the system should include incentives to work; should be closely tied to the Internal Revenue Service to give it maximum administrative efficiency; and should recognize regional cost of living differentials.

There are various proposals for income maintenance. One would be a system of "children's or family allowances" which would make payments to all families with children, rich or poor. Another would be a "guaranteed annual income" for all by the Federal Government.

Senator McCarthy has come out for a guaranteed income, Senator Kennedy has come out against it, Vice President Humphrey has taken a midway position, former Vice President Nixon has said he's studying it. But the proposal which has the most attention and support is for a "negative income tax."

Q. What is the "negative income tax?"

A. Under this concept, a breakeven level of income would be set as the dividing line between poor and non-poor (say $3,300 for a family of four). Every tax unit, whether an individual living alone or a family, would then compute its total annual income and file a return. If the individual's or family's income amounted to less than its breakeven level, the unit would RECEIVE A TAX PAYMENT from the Treasury instead of PAYING A TAX TO THE TREASURY. In short, a negative income tax. . .

Q. How would the money be paid?

A. The allowances would be paid in cash, with each recipient having the freedom to determine how the cash is used. The benefits would be a matter of right.

Q. This matter of "right" is different, isn't it?

A. It's at the heart of the negative income tax proposal, because it removes distinctions between the person who can't work and the "loafer" who won't. Under this concept, only the family's size and income level would determine the amount of payment.

Q. How much would it cost?

A. That would depend on the extent to which the negative tax would be used to raise the poor to the poverty threshold. It could go part of the way, most of the way, all of the way. The latest Federal Government estimate is that the poverty gap amounts to $10.8 billion—meaning it would cost this much on top of the $8 billion a year we're now spending on welfare to lift all 30,000,000 out of poverty.

Q. What are the key advantages?

A. It would make "need" the basis for financial assistance and create a uniform national minimum standard. It would channel funds to those in greatest need and divide responsibilities efficiently. The IRS could assume the major financial obligations; local governments could provide supporting social services.

Q. What's the status of research on this?

A. The first practical experiment with the negative income tax is now beginning in New Jersey.

About 1,200 young families are being selected to represent the nation's city poor. They will start receiving government paychecks by end of summer. The three-year pilot project, financed by Federal anti-poverty funds, is designed to show whether the guaranteed annual income will help push the poor into jobs, will help protect the family unit, will encourage the search for better housing.

Q. Is this an answer to the problem of our slums?

A. It is one attack—and this slum problem we must tackle and solve if our nation is not to be torn apart.

the few to dissent with the panel.

"I think we're doing too much generalizing about parents. The minority of activist parents give the majority of parents a bad name. I think you'll find the average parent reasonable and interested in most things. Oh, they have kooky ideas about pot and sex, but when it gets to serious matters I find them level-headed."

Larry Massee, '70, said, "It seems to me the inability to get through to parents is a communications gap and students are to blame. We never ask where parents are going or what time they're coming back. When they try to tell their problems, we ignore them and pretend they're inconsequential. But their problems, no matter how minor they seem to us, are important to them. Most students spend so much time demonstrating and defying the college administration that they don't have any time to devote to their own mothers and fathers."

"Larry's right," Esther Bird, '72, declared. "And I have a good illustration to prove it. The other night my father told me his business was bankrupt and he would have to go on relief. Now that didn't seem important to me, but for some reason it seemed important to him. So I listened to his problem, and he felt so much better afterward because I showed an interest. It's little things like this that build bridges between students and their bewildered parents."

WILLIAM BUCKLEY

Goldwater Versus Ginzburg

A few months after Senator Goldwater lost the presidential election, I received a message, delivered by hand, from Ralph Ginzburg, the pornographer, advising me to use such influence as I have on Senator Goldwater to restrain him from pursuing a libel suit he had instituted against Ginzburg and his journal, FACT Magazine. You know Goldwater, Ginzburg said to me in effect, and you should tell him that if he proceeds with this lawsuit, I shall be forced to reveal such information about him as I have heretofore—such being the reticence of Mr. Ginzburg—withheld from the public.

I passed along the communication to Senator Goldwater's lawyer and we chatted about it, and learned that another friend of the senator's had received an identical message by telegram. I wondered why Mr. Ginzburg disdained the use of the United States mail. That was innocent of me. The possible reason why, said the lawyer patiently, is that there is a law against using the post office for purposes of blackmail.

I must confess that I thought it unprofitable for Senator Goldwater to launch the suit, and told him so. Imagine coming into a city that had gone against him four to one, in which his name was anathema on account of the great and barbarous excesses of his critics during 1964; and facing a jury of twelve men and women and persuading them unanimously not merely that he had been libelled, but that the libeller had proceeded against him with what the Supreme Court calls "actual malice," i.e., with either a reckless disregard for the known facts, or with the knowledge that what he had said was untrue. But Senator Goldwater was aroused. And he is the kind of man who gets aroused not merely because of self-concern. He was aroused because, as he put it, "if you can say that kind of thing about a man who is running for public office, then decent men are going to stop running for public office."

What kind of thing? Ginzburg had published in his magazine, garishly advertised in the national press, allegations touching on Mr. Goldwater's essential qualifications as a human being. A summary of the allegations of that issue of FACT were that Mr. Goldwater was "homosexual, latent or overt, was emotionally unstable, paranoid, was, like Hitler, a sadist, immoral, and amoral, and a mass murderer."

The trial lasted for three weeks. The defense, which sought at first to insist that the charges against Goldwater were true, quickly retreated to what the lawyers call "fair comment." And in due course they retreated from that, on over to a defense against the charges of actual malice. But skillful questioning by Mr. Robb for Senator Goldwater, plus the senator's own wholesome performance on the stand, were apparently enough to persuade the jury that Ginzburg had every reason to believe that the charges he was publishing against Goldwater were not only false but preposterous, but that he published them anyway. Mr. Goldwater had not asked for, nor did the jury award him, compensatory damages. It is not likely that the article cost Mr. Goldwater the election. But the jury did award punitive damages, in the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, fifty thousand against the defunct magazine FACT, twenty-five thousand against Ginzburg. He will, of course, appeal (everyone always appeals), and there is little doubt but that by the time the highest court instructs Mr. Ginzburg to stop dilly-dallying and pay over the twenty-five grand, much more than that will have been spent by Senator Goldwater on lawyer's fees. Law suits come high, but Goldwater's contribution—his own time, his money, and self exposure to ignominious questioning—is in the tradition of public service to which the senator has been addicted over all those years when his detractor Ginzburg was making his living by pandering to his readers' lubricious appetites.

A lot has been done in recent years to define libel law as it concerns public figures, and the renowned New York Times vs. Sullivan, estopping public figures from suing unless they can prove actual malice, is in the right direction. But surely the reform most overdue would require the loser of libel suits to pay the cost of the winner. The American Ginzburgs of the future should be required, as they are in England, to pay the cost of litigation. Otherwise judgments as moral vindications are only available to wealthy men.

Don't Need to Fear Bobby

WASHINGTON — If American businessmen are worried about Bobby Kennedy as President, they should forget it. As Attorney General, Bobby leaned over backward to protect one of the biggest gas monopolies in the U.S.A. Generally he was more tolerant on antitrust cases than the Eisenhower administration, generally considered to be the friend of big business.

One of the most interesting and little known testimonials to Bobby Kennedy, as far as business is concerned, is the story of his defense of the biggest pipeline company in the Far West—El Paso Natural Gas—and its monopoly position as a gas supplier to the people of California.

The story begins during the Eisenhower administration in 1959 when the Federal Power Commission, then packed with friends of gas and oil, put its stamp of approval on a merger between El Paso Natural Gas and Pacific Northwest Gas, which would have made El Paso the sole supplier to California and the Pacific Coast.

This aroused the ire of William Bennett, Chairman of California's Public Utility Commission, who appealed the decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals. Lee Rankin, Eisenhower's Solicitor General, backed Bennett up. They lost. The state of California then appealed to the Supreme Court.

At this point, John F. Kennedy was running for President, and Commissioner Bennett became one of his advance men. He got to know the Kennedy entourage, and looked forward to antitrust cooperation when the Kennedy family got into power.

He was disappointed. When Commissioner Bennett asked the new Democratic Solicitor General, Archibald Cox, to join him in his appeal to the Supreme Court, Cox said no.

Bennett then appealed to Robert F. Kennedy, the new Attorney General, who also said no. Figuring that Kennedy did not know the significance of the situation and the monopoly hold which El Paso gas would have on gas prices on the Pacific Coast, Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, then Governor of California, also wrote to Attorney General Kennedy. Again Bobby said no.

"Early in 1961 I talked to Bobby Kennedy at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco," says Commissioner Bennett. "I tried to explain the importance of this monopoly to the people of California. But I got nowhere. I told Kennedy all I wanted him to do was not to oppose our petition to the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari. But Bobby said no."

The state of California filed its petition anyway, and believe it or not the Kennedy administration appeared before the Supreme Court and argued against California, on the side of the Power Commission's ruling for El Paso Natural Gas.

Difficult to Sell Yourself

JIM BISHOP: REPORTER

The most difficult thing for a man to sell is himself. Some can sell machinery, or household goods, or cars. In this they must sell a bit of themselves to the customer, or he will try elsewhere. But when a man has nothing to offer except his character, his integrity, his intellect, I stand in his presence with my hat over my heart.

John Francis Monahan did it. He did it big, and he did it big. If you had seen him 25 years ago among a million kids, you'd have said: "That one is going to be a bum." It would have constituted an intelligent assessment. The kid was a wise guy.

There were reasons, I guess. John Monahan, born in Evanston, Ill., of Warren L. Monahan, an executive of a small company selling olive oil, olives and salad dressings, found life a bit easy. He had spending money. Clothes. A bicycle. One night when John was little, his father drove the car over a railroad crossing. A train killed him.

Life became harsh. It became easier to do a buddy out of a quarter than to earn one. Three years later, John's mother died suddenly. The world was becoming too tough to bear, so John said the hell with it. Nothing was permanent, including love.

He went to live with two older sisters—Betty and Pattie—but they lacked control. They were single, and a growing boy is a unique mystery. They sent him to study with the Benedictine Sisters at St. Edmund's Hall in Navvoo, Ill. John Monahan became a dropout before anyone knew what the word meant. He went back to Betty's house, an old stucco place at 1500 Sherwin Avenue, Chicago. She fed his body, but his mind was racing downhill at top speed. He admired the neighborhood toughs who could fight. He joined the no-work, no-school crowd. Once, John condescended to be a lifeguard at Tuohy Avenue on Lake Michigan. It gave him a chance to show off his big skinny frame, his jet hair and a handsome grin.

He went off to war young. The 95th Division of Ohio didn't need Monahan, and he never did better than buck private. His credo was Liberty, Money, Girls. When he got out in 1946, he and some buddies bought an old YP navy boat and set off down the Mississippi for Acapulco and a life of ease.

In Havana, a crewman was killed by a woman and John Francis Monahan learned, late, that nobody owed him a living and no one cared. He was 21 years old when he discovered a thing called education. He went to Miami and, although he had only 18 months of high school, took the entrance examinations at the University of Miami and passed. His monumental mind told him that the best life would be as a diplomat in South America. So he majored in history, Spanish and good manners. To pay his way, he took an ugly job: orderly in the Veterans Hospital in Coral Gables. He couldn't even mooch a hamburger; it had to be earned.

In five years he had his Bachelor of Arts and he drove a Model A Ford to Washington. The politicians never heard of him. He drove back to Betty and sold the car for $65. The diplomat took a job at the Edgewater Beach Hotel as room clerk. William M. Dewey, the owner, said: "John, if you will be the bestin whatever you propose to be, people will stuff money in your pocket."

He ran an elevator. He washed pots and pans. At the age of 23, John Monahan was vice president of the Alsonett chain of hotels. He vowed never to make a promise that he couldn't keep.

and to keep every promise even if it killed him. He was now selling himself.

Ben Tobin took him on as general sales manager of the Hollywood Hotel in Florida. Monahan began to hit his stride. He met a dark and beautiful girl named Peggy Sheehan and married her. This was the right partner. Monahan went into business for himself and was broke in two years. It is hardly the way to greet expected babies.

Sam Friedland, who is chairman of Food Fairs and owns the Diplomat Hotel in Florida, took him on as hotel sales manager. There, Monahan met Irving Cowan, president of the hotel and they ran the Diplomat up to the sky. The two men blended like ham on a bagel.

Today, John Monahan owns a beautiful home on Diplomat Way, in Hollywood, Fla. He has three children and he tells them about the virtues of making everything the hard way. Monday, Monahan starts a new job. He will be vice president of Diners Club and executive vice president of Diners-Fugazy Travel. He will earn twice as much as he ever did.

The most difficult thing for a man is to sell himself. To himself. . .

and to keep every promise even if it killed him. He was now selling himself.

Ben Tobin took him on as general sales manager of the Hollywood Hotel in Florida. Monahan began to hit his stride. He met a dark and beautiful girl named Peggy Sheehan and married her. This was the right partner. Monahan went into business for himself and was broke in two years. It is hardly the way to greet expected babies.

Sam Friedland, who is chairman of Food Fairs and owns the Diplomat Hotel in Florida, took him on as hotel sales manager. There, Monahan met Irving Cowan, president of the hotel and they ran the Diplomat up to the sky. The two men blended like ham on a bagel.

An Amusing Aspect

"IMMINENT" (FOR THE PAST MONTH)—One of the more amusing aspects of the fiddlings and fussings of the joint House-Senate conference committee, which for the past two months has been trying to iron out differences between the two chambers over the amount of pay increase to be granted Pennsylvania's school teachers, has been the almost daily "news" reports (or prognostications) that agreement was "imminent," "expected tomorrow," etc.

These projections from "usually reliable sources," "spokesmen close to the scene" and what-not have been going on for nearly the past month, almost in fact since the teacher pay dispute was thrown into the conference committee two months ago after the House and Senate refused to concur in each other's recommendations — the House at the time approving $54 million, the Senate $36 million.

As the conference report still languished in committee early this week, one lawmaker was prompted to say to a newsman, with what might be termed a legislative grin of sorts: "Now at long last you can say the report actually has been made. Wait a minute, it has been made, hasn't it? Now I'm confused!"

Who wouldn't be!

A MATTER OF COMPARISON — As Pennsylvania's 1968 legislative session heads into the summer months, it is perhaps interesting to note that neighboring New York's 1968 legislative session drew to a close last week, presenting Governor Rockefeller with an estimated 1100 bills on which to act within the 30 days (as prescribed by the New York State Constitution).

As a matter of contrast, Pennsylvania's "continuing" 1967-68 legislative gathering has sent approximately 530 pieces of general legislation to His Excellency's desk to date.

During the New York session, a total of some 13,000 bills was introduced in both House and Senate — while the count in Pennsylvania during the current session rounds out to some 4100 bills on general legislation.

TO RUN OR NOT TO RUN — Under Pennsylvania constitutional decree county treasurers have not been able to succeed themselves.

Pennsylvania's Constitutional Convention which wound up its chore February 29, approved the recommendation that this stipulation be deleted and that county treasurers be permitted to run for a consecutive term.

When Pennsylvania's electorate approved the recommendations of the Convention at the primary polls April 23, the county treasurer point was also approved. However, the question has popped up frequently in the interim as to whether the back-to-back office permission applies to incumbents, or whether it can apply only to those elected subsequent to the April 23 approval.

A check by this column with the Department of Justice indicates that incumbent county treasurers may indeed seek another term of office; that the proviso for consecutive terms became effective last week when the Governor officially proclaimed formal adoption of the five constitutional questions.

ONE FOR THE ROAD — Official proclamations issued by a Governor oftentimes are somewhat horrendous affairs both from title and alleged purpose. Usually His Excellency has little choice and is merely following legislative dictate.

One of the more choice proclamations from the title standpoint appeared the other day, namely: "See - Pennsylvania By-Car Month - June, 1968" . . . That's a long title no matter how you look at it. . . His Excellency would have "my fellow Pennsylvanians and residents of neighboring states" motor through Pennsylvania "during the long days of summer" visiting shrines, scenic places and recreational areas . . . Not a bad idea at that!

John G. MacDonald, formerly of this city, was among those upon whom the degree of bachelor of arts was conferred at the Spring Convocation of the University of Western Ontario, London, Ontario, Canada.

What is Wrong With Parents?

WASHINGTON—A panel of distinguished students met at Waverly University last week to discuss the pressing topic of the day: "What is wrong with our parents?"

Cal Holden, class of '70, said the restlessness and unhappiness attributed to most parents these days could be blamed on the fact that students have been too permissive with their parents.

"We haven't stood up to them," he said. "We let them buy us cars and clothes and pay our tuition and give us vacations, and the more we let them do for us, the more surely and unmanageable they become."

Mary Beth Lou, '71, agreed.

"When you spare the rod, you spoil the mother. I find parents are so much happier when you tell them that YOU want to do, instead of asking them what they want to do. Parents are like children. They need discipline. I have a great relationship with my parents only because when my father and mother get out of line I let them know it."

Dick Duncan, '69, said, "It seems to me that parents have too much money to spend. Everything's too easy for them. They have no real values. I think you would have to blame the economy for this. Advertisers are constantly appealing to parents. Because of their purchasing power, parents are made to think they're important, and they get an inflated opinion of themselves. Parents believe, since they are so sought after by the advertiser, that they know everything."

Sherry Cerr, '72, was one of the few to dissent with the panel.

"I think we're doing too much generalizing about parents. The minority of activist parents give the majority of parents a bad name. I think you'll find the average parent reasonable and interested in most things. Oh, they have kooky ideas about pot and sex, but when it gets to serious matters I find them level-headed."

Larry Massee, '70, said, "It seems to me the inability to get through to parents is a communications gap and students are to blame. We never ask where parents are going or what time they're coming back. When they try to tell their problems, we ignore them and pretend they're inconsequential. But their problems, no matter how minor they seem to us, are important to them. Most students spend so much time demonstrating and defying the college administration that they don't have any time to devote to their own mothers and fathers."

"Larry's right," Esther Bird, '72, declared. "And I have a good illustration to prove it. The other night my father told me his business was bankrupt and he would have to go on relief. Now that didn't seem important to me, but for some reason it seemed important to him. So I listened to his problem, and he felt so much better afterward because I showed an interest. It's little things like this that build bridges between students and their bewildered parents."

Clough Farm Sold

The historic Clough Farm in the Spring Creek area has been sold, but for the time being, nothing much will change, a representative of the buyer said Monday.

Fisher and Young Lumber Company of Titusville has bought the farm from the Clough heirs, Philip Cochran, company spokesman said. He did not disclose the purchase price. According to Cochran, the firm has purchased the 1,200-acre landmark property to be added to the Titusville lumbering operation's holdings. There will be no lumbering activity there for the time being but a good second growth of timber on the land will be held for future use.

No plans have yet been made for the house and barns although Cochran said the company had inquiries on the house.

The famed barns, among the largest ever built in Pennsylvania, were used for a dairy operation and cattle breeding.

Area Men in Armed Service

Sp4 Dennis Munch, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Munch, 407 Lexington Ave., surprised his parents with a phone call from Sidney, Australia Sunday night. Sp4 Munch, who entered the service in January 1966, has been serving in Vietnam for the past 10 months. He was in Sidney on a rest and recreation leave. Sp4 Munch returned to duty Sunday night. During the telephone call prior to returning to duty Sp4 Munch had an opportunity to talk to his entire family including two brothers and two sisters.

Kenneth C. Goldthwaite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goldthwaite of 50 Mill street, Sheffield, and Daniel T. Dilick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dilick of 10 West Main street, Sheffield, enlisted in the U.S. Navy May 23 and are at Great Lakes, Ill., where they are in recruit training. Upon completion of this training they will return home for a fourteen day leave and then report to their next duty station.

Blood Drive On In Frewsburg

Pledge cards are being circulated this week throughout the town of Frewsburg for the 1968 community wide blood donor drive. The Red Cross Blood mobile will be visiting Frewsburg, N.Y., June 3 setting up headquarters at Frewsburg Central School from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Ralph Little, general chairman of the drive, now in its final week, announced Monday pledge team captains have been selected to canvass all areas of the community this week. Team captains are Howard Howbridge, and Mrs. Orrason Barber, Frewsburg firemen and auxiliary; Gunnard Sandberg, Grange; Robert Kennedy, Masons; Dean Vanderschaft, Jaycees; Mrs. Lawrence Sandberg, Jaycees; Mrs. William Borgert, PTA; Robert Johnson, Central School faculty and Lions Club; Ralph McCullough and Sam Zembardo, American Legion; and Bertha Benson, American Legion auxiliary.

The PTA, Jaycees and the American Legion Auxiliary will recruit volunteers to serve as registrars, canteen workers and aides.

The goal for this year is 200 pints. Walkin donors will be welcome.

Students

Commended

Students at Edinboro State College's Warren Campus have been commended by the Warren County Bar Association.

In a letter to Frank R. Johnson, director, Warren Attorney William F. Morgan wrote as follows: "On behalf of all the members of the Warren County Bar Association, I would like to express my appreciation and thank you, Mr. Richard Andersen and the students who acted as witnesses, for your help in our presentation of the mock trials on 'Law Day: U.S.A.' The students played their roles well and really helped liven up the trials.

"While Columbia students rioted, your students helped us demonstrate the orderly means within the law for settling disputes."

Johnson said the message of the letter was self-evident and also a source of pride to both the student body and the faculty of the local Edinboro campus.

Warren County Church Members Total 18,774

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — Protestant and Roman Catholic church membership in Warren County last year totaled 18,774, according to the State Department of Internal Affairs, which noted the county had 54 Protestant churches and five Catholic parishes within its borders.

The five parishes in the county were reported serving an estimated 5800 Roman Catholics.

On the other hand, the 54 churches in the county were recorded as serving 12,974 Protestants, with breakdowns as follows:

Lutherans — seven churches with a membership of 2801; Methodists — 17 churches and a membership of 4906; United Presbyterian — five churches serving a membership of 1643; United Church of Christ — four churches and a membership of 540; Evangelical United Brethren — 12 churches, membership of 1425; Protestant Episcopal — two churches, 794 members; American Baptist — one church with a membership of 402; Church of the Brethren (none listed); Mennonite (none listed); Greek Orthodox (none listed); Evangelical Congregational (none listed); "others" — six churches, 663 members.

Statewide, the total includes 1562 Roman Catholic parishes comprising a membership of 3,648,725 and 9366 Protestant churches with a membership of 2,722,886, plus 121 Conservative and Reform synagogues comprising 38,218 Jewish families.

Clean-Up Day Set for June 1

North Warren Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a clean up day June 1 for the residents of North Warren borough with proceeds raised from the campaign to be used for service projects in the community. Currently the projects include landscaping the community house and equipping the playground.

Home owners are requested to gather up any materials or rubbish they wish to dispose of and place the refuse by the street. Kiwanis members, with trucks donated by Masterson Transfer Co., and Louis Segel & Sons, will collect the refuse which will be dumped in a place provided by Valentine Disposal.

Members of the clean-up day committee are Dick Rea, Bob Anderson, Jake Winegardner and Bill Anderson, chairman.

BACK TO HIS BEGINNINGS

DENVER (AP)—Air Force Lt. Charles S. Erwin was born at Fitzsimons General Hospital near Denver Dec. 10, 1943. He paid his first visit to the hospital since then this year. He was flown to the hospital with arm and leg fractures suffered in an automobile-bus collision in Thailand.

HONORED ON RETIREMENT

Mrs. W. D. McElwain, a teacher in Warren for 35 years, marked her retirement at a special dinner at Bud's Restaurant in Jamestown, N. Y. Presently teaching third grade at Jefferson Street School, Mrs. McElwain taught two years in Abington township schools and two years in Custer Terrace schools in Ft. Benning, Ga., where she served as principal, Angelo DiMino, Jefferson school principal, presented a lovely gift from the school faculty who also gave the honored guest an orchid corsage. ## Ambulance Drivers Perform 'Mercy' Errand CORRY.—To drivers for the Corry Ambulance Service, errands of mercy are routine.

On Sunday, however, such an errand involving a sick baby sent one ambulance rushing to Waterford for goat's milk, then rushing the milk to Sheffield.

The story had its beginning when Arnold McCaslin of Corry received a call from an aunt in Sheffield, Mrs. Arthur Rogers. Mrs. Rogers said her daughter, Mrs. Louise Dunham, who is staying with her mother, needed goat's milk for her 10-month-old son.

The youngster, Roger Dunham, has been ill for about three weeks and in a hospital for treatment of dehydration.

Normal food would not stay on the baby's stomach, according to Mrs. Dunham.

Calls were made south of Sheffield trying to locate goat's milk but were unsuccessful. McCaslin was contacted and he made phone calls in all directions and called his cousin, Donald McCaslin for assistance.

Finally it was learned that Jennings Goat Farm near Waterford had the milk available.

Donald McCaslin, a part-time driver for Corry Ambulance Service, got permission to take the ambulance and the two McCaslins raced to Waterford for the milk, then turned around and headed for Sheffield.

Mrs. Dunham said Monday the child had a feeding of the milk and that, so far, has succeeded in retaining it, a good sign, according to the mother.

WET DOWN THEMSELVES

PHOENIX (AP) — Patrons of a restaurant demonstrated how to keep cool when a fire broke out recently during the noon hour—they headed for the bar.

As the dining room began to fill with smoke, manager A. V. Knox said, some 60 patrons left their tables "and some of them headed right for the bar and started ordering drinks."

The Warren County Human Society has the following dog listed for adoption: A friendly happy dog, male, 8 months old, reddish tan, short-haired terrier of the long legged type. He has been named "Socks."

One very large chow-type dog male and about one year old, a one year old male, black and white spaniel named "Pea nuts"; a tri-colored male hound terrier, a small, good natured animal and should make a good house dog.

A shaggy dog, black par poodle, has poodle disposition and yearns for a good master. His name is "Hank."

The Society suggests that every boy should have a dog for the coming long, lazy days of summer. "Fred," a hound type male, about one year old, is waiting for someone to come and get him.

The number to call is 728-1961.

Bobby Unser Sets Record In Winning First Indy Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Bobby Unser, hottest American race driver this year, stomped out the turbine revolution Thursday in the 52nd 500-mile auto race. He won his first Indy 500 with a record speed of 152.882 m.p.h.

The Albuquerque, N.M., member of a famous racing family, pulled ahead to stay with 22 1/2 miles to go as a leading turbine failed for a second straight year.

Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., climbed out of the ailing turbine with his head hanging, just as Parnelli Jones had done a year ago when the original turbine quit with 7 1/2 miles to go.

That was when Unser, in and out of the lead all the way, whizzed by and captured first place for keeps.

"I couldn't believe it," Unser said in the garage area after the race. "I just couldn't believe it."

Could he have caught the whizzing Leonard turbine if it hadn't quit?

"That's something I'll never know," Unser said. "I was sitting there in that car wondering that myself at the time."

Two other Lotus turbines entered by Andy Granatelli also failed to finish. Graham Hill of London, 1966 winner, crashed after losing a wheel. He was not hurt. Another turbine driven by Art Pollard of Medford, Ore., stopped minutes after Leonard's quit.

Granatelli said he didn't know what happened but, "They just quit."

It was a great day for Dan Gurney, America's international racer and car builder from Santa Ana, Calif. Not only did he finish second but his All-American Eagle finished third, second and fourth.

Gurney's teammate, 1967 world champion Denis Hulme of Australia, finished fourth behind Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., the U.S. Auto Club midget car champion last year. Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., was fifth in the unofficial standings.

Official standings will not be posted until 8 a.m., EST, Friday. The payoff will not be announced until the traditional victory dinner Friday night.

Unser's victory came on the track where his brother, Jerry, was killed in a practice run in 1959.

Another brother, Al, crashed in the first turn Thursday when a wheel came off.

"I saw that it was Al," Bobby said after the race atop the rear seat of a convertible in victory lane. "But I saw that he was all right."

Bobby was fighting a major handicap after the first of his three compulsory pit stops. His low gear went out and he had to run only in high gear, pulling out of the pits. Although it cost him precious seconds, it was a handicap only when going out of the pits and didn't hinder him on the track.

But Bobby thought the broken gear shift had killed his chances.

"I figure I was losing a half lap with the slow acceleration on each of the second and third pit stops," he said. "I thought that finished me."

Leonard, who won the pole position with a record qualifying speed, led the first seven laps only to find himself passed by Bobby Unser and his Eagle-turbine-coached Offenhauser.

Bobby led through the 54th lap and was passed on the 55th by Ruby.

Bobby got in front again on the 91st, yielded to Leonard on the 112th and got back ahead on the 117th.

It was Ruby again, 167.175, Leonard from 176-191 and Bobby the rest of the way.

Bobby had won three previous U.S. Auto Club races this season at Trenton, N.J., Phoenix, Ariz., and Las Vegas, Nev.

The curly-haired, 34-year-old driver had an Eagle owned by Bob Wilke, Milwaukee businessman who also owned cars driven by former winner Rodger Ward.

Eleven cars were running at the finish, out of 33 starters, and nobody was hurt.

DeVore's Win 18-8

DeVore Keystone defeated Sheffield, 18-8, with Gene Rolls hitting a grand slam home run. Rolls also hit two triples, while Gene Smith had one triple for the winners. DeVore doubles were hit by Gene Smith, Jim Olsen and Herb Smith. For the losers, John Turney hit a double and Bill Johnson a triple. Gary Rain and Gene Smith were the winning battery with Dave Holmberg relieving in the fifth. Batteries for Sheffield were Bill Johnson, Lee Goldwaithe in the fourth and McAuley.

Blackmer's Roll-Over Gives Schnars His Third Memorial Day Win

By DAN PRATZ
BUSTI, N.Y. — The Hyle Russell Memorial Race here Saturday night turned into a real heart breaker for Ron Blackmer, favored to win the event, as he rolled his 1967 Chevrolet less than 50 yards from the finish line on the last lap after leading the pace for 22 of the 50 laps. Bobby Schnars, who was running second by almost half a lap, took home his third victory in a row in the annual Memorial Day event.

Blackmer rested on his top as the lead he had secured was literally mutilated with the second, third and fourth place cars gained one lap on the ace pilot putting him in ninth spot.

The race was highlighted by a breath-taking roll-over by Dick Godfrey on lap 30 as his No. 7 rolled sideways, endways, and every way but the right way for a total of eight complete somersaults. Godfrey gave the O.K. signal from his car as it rested on its lid and the race was immediately stopped to remove him from the auto.

Pros Beat Amateurs In French Tennis Play

PARIS (AP) — The pro tennis stars again battered all amateur opposition in the French championships at the Roland Garros stadium Thursday.

Crowds totaling 3,000 cheered every winning shot by the amateurs, but the pros were the masters. Five of them—Rod Laver, Ken Rosewell and Roy Emerson of Australia, Pancho Gonzalez of Los Angeles and Andres Gimeno of Spain—swept into the third round of the men's singles.

Micky Kalogeropoulos, the bearded Greek amateur who has coached King Constantine on the tennis courts, was the day's most heroic loser. He kept the match going for more than an hour before losing

Out Of The Way

Wins Jersey by 2 1/2

CHERRY HILL, N.J., (AP) — King Bench's late developing 3-year-old Out Of The Way came with a rush in the stretch and beat pacemaker Captain's Gig and favorite Iron Ruler in the $134,700 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park Thursday.

A distant second in the Preakness, Out Of The Way, ridden by Eddie Belmonte, scored by 2 1/2 lengths over Cain Hoy Stable's Captain's Gig, with October House Farm's Iron Ruler another neck back. Yankee Lad, a 60-1 shot finished fourth.

In earning the $87,555 winner's share of the ninth annual Jersey, Belmonte kept Out Of The Way back until the field of 10 reached the far turn. He was timed in 1:49.

Chuck Vorse took an early lead in the competition but was soon over-powered by Kenny See in the fifth lap. See led the race until the 20th lap when Blackmer began to breath down his neck, staying behind the lead car until Lap 27 when the Youngsville lead-foot made his bid.

Blackmer also met trouble in the sportsmen division as he spun out in the tenth lap after coming from 20th position to lead laps eight and nine. Quick recuperation was the story for Blackmer as he once more fought his way up through the traffic to take the lead from Gary Hazzard on the 17th lap. The ace went on to win the event earning himself the title of "undefeated" for four racing programs in the Sportsmen Class. Skip Furlow captured second while Lyle Brown and Hazzard fought it out for third. The end results being a third spot for Brown and Hazzard finishing fourth.

Bob Patch was once more victorious in the Hooligan division, winning the race over Dick Sampson who breathed down Patch's neck but wasn't able to get up the speed needed to pass.

A field of 34 cars started the Late Model feature with a surprising number, twenty-five, fighting the competition until the very end.

Just when it seemed that Kibbie had things under control in the inning with two men out and White on second, Ishman gave the green light for White to come home with his second base hit of the contest. ## Nichols Service Wins Second in City League

By DAVE PIRILLO

Nichols Service made it two in a row in City League play Wednesday by grinding out a 5-2 decision over the Sons of Italy. Jim McMeans tip-toed through the raindrops in picking up his second mound win of the young season over rookie Tom Kibbie.

The Paisans threw a scare into the front-running Tarantulas in the first few innings. The output was good enough to hold a 1-0 lead for three innings.

Joe Font and Dick Mancuso got to McMeans in the bottom of the second frame with a pair of singles. Tony Vavala broke the deadlock with a run-scoring single to center.

Sons of Italy's hurler Kibbie had the booming bats of Nichols hitting the ball into the ground for the first few innings until the fourth when a free pass to Bob Larson spelled trouble. The Tarantulas then proceeded to load the sacks with singles off Bob Ishman's and McMeans' bats. Ed "Wink" Rickerson made it a new ball game when he sacrificed Larson home with a bunt down the first base line.

Nichols' power showed it was long overdue in the fifth inning when they ripped off four runs on five timely hits. Jim Fehlman's double (the only extra base hit of the game) started the downfall of the Paisans. Dick White put Joe Muscare's entry out in front to stay with a line drive single in the gap.

Just when it seemed that Kibbie had things under control in the inning with two men out and White on second, Ishman gave the green light for White to come home with his second base hit of the contest. McMeans kept the ball rolling with another hit. With the bases loaded once again Jack White saw to it that the third and fourth run of the inning crossed the plate with his first hit of the year.

The fifth inning saw the SOI try desperately to get something started. John Tassone and Dana Suppa put back-to-back singles to work. Before the fire dwindled Dick Mancuso managed to salvage a run by lifting a sacrifice fly to left field to end the scoring.

Warren Beverage will open its season on Monday evening when against Sons of Italy in a makeup game originally scheduled for opening night. WB also takes on the Mineral Well in the nightcap.

Forward Pass Is Ready For Belmont and Triple

NEW YORK (AP) — Forward Pass is as ready as he'll ever be to make his bid to become racing's first Triple Crown winner in 20 years, trainer Henry Forrester said Thursday.

Forrest watched the Calumet Farm colt gallop at Belmont Park and said he "will just have to be outrun" to be beaten Saturday in the 100th running of the 1 1/2-mile Belmont Stakes.

The last horse to win the Triple Crown—Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont—was Calumet's Citation in 1948.

A field of nine 3-year-olds is expected to go to the post for the Belmont at approximately 5:30 p.m., EDT. CBS will televise the race nationally from 5 p.m. to 5:45 p.m.

If all nine start, the gross purse will be $161,450, with $117,700 to the winner.

Expected to provide the stiffest competition for Forward Pass and jockey Ismael Valenzuela are the lightly raced Call Me Prince and Stage Door Johnny.

Mrs. Adele Rand's Call Me Prince, trained by 87-year-old

Max Hirsch and to be ridden by Bill Boland, has gone to the post only six times but the Princequillo colt has won all four starts this year, including an impressive triumph in the one mile Withers.

Stage Door Johnny, owned by Greentree Stable, has only five career starts and won his first race May 8. However, he then came back to win handily in the 1 1/2-mile Peter Pan Purse May 23. He will be ridden by Heliodoro Gutierrez.

Ortiz Seeks Postponement

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz of New York said Thursday that because of a back injury he is seeking a three-week postponement of his title defense against Carlos "Teo" Cruz.

The 31-year-old champion was scheduled to meet the No. 1 contender from the Dominican Republic in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, on Saturday, June 8. Ortiz said he wants to put off the fight until June 29.

Warren Honors Its Gallant Dead With Traditional Ceremonies

LOCAL OBSERVANCE

Color guard and a flag-draped caisson led a traditional Memorial Day procession Thursday followed by local servicemen, veterans and interested residents. The procession formed near the American Legion Home, moved east on Pennsylvania ave., south on Hickory st and east again along Crescent Park to Oakland Cemetery where services similar to those which have been observed for the past 100 years were conducted. Leroy Schneck, major U.S.

Army Reserves, was the featured speaker, emphasizing there should be more flag waving and more interest shown by area residents on a day set aside to honor those who have given their lives for their country. Services were concluded with the traditional salute by the firing squad from Company A, Pennsylvania National Guard at the cemetery's GAR Circle. (Photos by Mahan)

Sen. Clark Capsulizes Nation's Problems

U.S. Senator Joseph S. Clark capsulized the nation's problems Thursday saying "There are three things holding us back—the war in Vietnam, the crisis in our cities and the threat to the dollar."

Clark, seeking re-election for his third term in the Senate on the Democratic ticket, made his remarks at a news conference prior to the dedication of the Three Flags in Crescent Park.

He said he would support the tax bill now in Congress including the $6-billion budget cut as a drastic measure necessary to get the nation out of a fiscal bind. The budget cut could be raised to $8-billion, if it were taken out of military expenditures, and we wouldn't miss it, he said.

Clark said he is not a "protectionist" and would not favor quotas on imports except under most grave circumstances. He called the current depletion allowance on oil unjustifiable.

He pinned what seems to be an inability to solve many of our problems at home on the war in Vietnam, saying that an end to the war would release billions of dollars for projects at home including the fish hatchery proposed for construction at the Kinzua Dam.

The senator said he was enormously encouraged by the statements of Averill Harriman and Cyrus Vance, U.S. representatives at the Paris talks, that would make a cease fire a high priority item of discussion.

"The war is a stalemate. We can't win and they can't win," he said. "It's folly to think that we're winning because we're killing more of them than they are of us."

He said he would not mind if the talks lasted a couple of years if a cease fire could be arranged first.

The belief that bombing restrictions allowed North Vietnam a greater chance to infiltrate is a misconception, he said. However, he did not advocate a total halt to the bombing until the North Vietnamese reciprocated on the concessions we already have made.

Clark said he hoped the Poor Peoples March on Washington would do some good but he was not sure it would. The march is a legitimate exercise of the rights of free speech and assembly, he said. Senator Clark is a member of a congressional committee organized to establish dialogue between the leaders of the march and congress.

The senator was as equivocal on political matters as he was unequivocal on other events, Clark, who remained uncommitted, when Pennsylvania's delegates to the Democratic National Convention, met in Harrisburg this week, said he has no plans to support any candidate prior to the convention in Chicago.

When asked if he favored

President Johnson's recent proposal to reduce the national voting age to 18, Clark said he has already proposed such an amendment to the constitution. "A lot of young people have better judgment than some of us in our sixties," he said.

Distinguished Visitor from France Member of Illustrious Warren Family

By FRANKLIN R. HOFF

"When they told me the representative of the Government of France who would take part in the Memorial Day Three Flags dedication ceremonies was named Warren," says Le Roy Schneck, president of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau, "I said, 'you're putting me on!'—but they weren't."

It turns out that not only does the Count Reginald de Warren bear this illustrious name, but he is actually of the same family.

In an interview with the illustrious Frenchman he explained the relationship:

"The Warren family tree is very simple," he says. The Warren family came to France at the end of the 17th Century, when the Stuart family was kicked out of England. General Joseph Warren—for whom your city and your county are named, belongs to a branch of the family who followed the Reformed Church, and became Protestants. They stayed in England."

The Count mentions that actually General Warren's branch are called the "Warren's of Ireland." The family lived in Ireland for a time.

explains that, because their two daughters are attending the University in Paris, his wife and they are remaining there. He only came to act as French Consul General in Philadelphia last September.

"My elder daughter has majored in English and has a Master of Arts degree from the Sorbonne. She is now a journalist," he reports.

"My younger daughter hopes to enter Bryn Mawr College in Philadelphia in September," he adds. "We'll make an American of her—maybe find her an American husband!"

"Count de Warren is very proud of his wife. 'My wife is Italian,' he says. 'She works for the house of Christian Dior—as head of one of the departments. She never had worked before in all of her life—was a foreigner. Odd, she earned more money in Paris than I did while there. It is very remarkable!'"

Warren's father was a cavalry officer, and he himself is also. He left the Army in 1946 as a Major to enter the diplomatic service. "This may amuse you," he reminisces, "I served with the French Foreign Legion in North Africa." He joined the Free French in 1941. Later serving with the Allied Control in Rome, he left the Army and joined the diplomatic service. He served in Bulgaria until 1949, then in Rhodesia from 1950 to 1955—covering the Sudan, Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland. In 1956 he returned to England for three years—and the last 18 months was head of the Press section in the French Embassy in London. From 1959 until the middle of 1965 he was in Greece as Press Attaché and Press Counsellor to the French Embassy. Back in France he spent two and one half years as Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Press and Information Department of the French Government.

"When I was assigned to Philadelphia as Consul General in September of last year, that was my first time in the United States," he recalls—although he had met many American friends during the war.

Commenting further on his Warren family, he thinks it somewhat amusing that although they came back to France, any time a catastrophe occurred, they always went back to England. A great—great—great grandfather fled to England during the French Revolution. His Godmother was the Duchess of Buckingham, and at his request purchased for him a commission in the English Army. He went to India with the Army, and all during the Napoleonic wars never had to fight against France. "Clever of him!" the count observes. "He was a scientific minded man, and created the Observatory of Madras," says de Warren. "I have many books about what he did—it was marvelous."

His son also had a commission in the British Army, and served in India. He returned to France at the age of 40 as a Major and settled there, and served Napoleon the Third in the Imperial guard.

The accident occurred, police reported, when a car operated by Joseph F. Pearson, traveling at a high rate of speed, collided with a car driven by Frank Szwarcowicz which was pulling out of a private drive. Damage to the Pearson car was set at $1,500, police said, while damages to the Szwarcowicz car were estimated at $300.

British Consul Plans To Return to Warren

By FRANKLIN R. HOFF

Eric W. Cook, British Consul in Cleveland, who represented Her Majesty's government at the dedication of the Three Flags in Crescent Park on Memorial Day, is a delightful and witty man. He was accompanied by his charming wife. Both declare they enjoyed their visit so much they will surely return to Warren.

He says they had almost despaired of ever coming to the United States, when, after two years in the British Foreign Office in London, he was finally appointed as Her Majesty's Consul in Cleveland in 1967.

Cook entered the British diplomatic service in 1949, after serving in the Royal Air Force during the war. He served in Rome, Moscow, Peking, Belgrade and in the Congo in Leopoldville.

The Cooks have a young son, eight years old, who was born in Peking—now at school in England. "He comes out here to visit us three times a year for his holidays," he adds.

During the war he served with the British air force in various areas—the Mediterranean, the Far East, and for a time in Archangel in Russia.

He grew up in southern England, was privately educated, then, at the age of 19, went into the war.

As British Consul in Cleveland he covers the entire States of Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, and Western Pennsylvania. "The main purpose of our service nowadays is basically trade promotion," he explains. "We also look after many thousands of British subjects who live in our consular district in this country."

He is in great demand as a speaker at various colleges and universities, at many clubs and on historical occasions. He reports that recently uppermost in most American minds are the British devaluation of the Pound Sterling, Rhodesia, free trade, and other current affairs.

Three ANF Rec Areas Now Open to Public

Kiasutha, Kinzua Beach and Willow Bay were opened to the public Memorial Day. These three recreation areas are designated U.S. fee areas which means there is an entrance fee of $1.00 per vehicle and an additional $1.00 per party per night for camping at Kiasutha and Willow Bay. In lieu of paying $1.00 entrance fee on each visit to these areas, the public may purchase the Golden Eagle for $7.00, which covers all entrance fees at all U.S. fee areas nationwide at anytime.

Kiasutha has 96 campsites, 110 picnic units, swimming beach and 150 picnic units. Presently the beach area is being graded. It will be sodded and seeded, and walkways constructed at the bathhouse. A concession stand will also be in operation at the bathhouse.

Willow Bay has 96 campsites, 120 picnic units and boat launch. Rangers authorized to sell entrance and use permits can be recognized by the bronze, shield-shaped, pine tree badge of the U.S. forest service.

In addition to the above, the following free areas are open to the public: Jakes Rocks picnic area, Rimrock picnic area, Kennedy Springs picnic area. Boat access areas: Morrison campground, Pine Grove campground, Hopewell campground, Handsome Lake campground and Roper Hollow boat launch.

No reservations are accepted for any use on National Forest recreation areas. Camping is limited to 14 consecutive days.

Many inquiries have been received for permission to leave boats anchored around the reservoir. This is not permitted except for people camping at waterside developments. Because of the possibility of quick changes in the water level, boats left at other places can be cast adrift, sunk or otherwise damaged. In the developed areas, rangers of the Corps of Engineers and National Forest will warn the users when such changes are beginning.

The Golden Eagle may be purchased at the following locations:

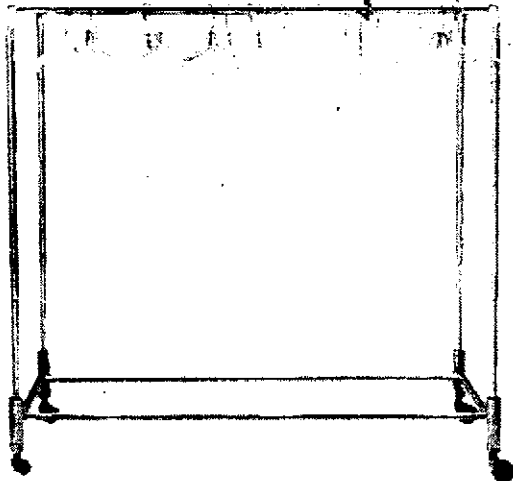

1. District Ranger Office, terminal building, Bradford, Pa., Monday through Friday between hours 8 a.m. - 12 noon and 1 p.m. - 5 p.m.
2. Reservoir administrators office, Klondike, Monday

OBSERVING THEIR 60TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY tomorrow, Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Richwalsky of Sheffield will begin the day attending a Mass of Thanksgiving at St. Michael's, where they were married by the pastor of the church at that time, the Rev. Sylvester Lupis. A family dinner will follow at St. Paul's Center, Saybrook, with the children of the couple and their children present; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Richwalsky of Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Trickett of Berkeley Springs, West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Richwalsky of Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rambish of Erie; Mr. and Mrs. John Richwalsky of North Warren, and, the Misses Mary Jane and Irene Richwalsky of Sheffield. Mr. and Mrs. Richwalsky have twenty-one grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Congratulations to them both.

WARREN ART LEAGUE reminds its members that the annual dinner will be held on Friday, June 7th, at the picturesque Deer Head Inn, near Spring Creek. Reservations must be made no later than today, according to Joanne Fredericks in charge of league publicity.

THESE ARE THE ART COMPETITION WINNERS as announced by the Warren Art League . . . this was the competition between Eisenhower students and Warren Area High School students . . . First - Mark Van Volkinburg, WAHS; 2nd - John Petersen, Eisenhower; 3rd - Ted Beckwith, WAHS; and, three honorable mentions to: Sue Anderson of Warren, Charles Ostrander of Eisenhower and Alex Palmer of Warren. Included in the competition were works in all media (sculpture, ceramics, watercolor, oil and acrylics). Art projects were executed under the leadership of Fred Schultz at Warren Area High School, and Troy Martin at Eisenhower, both members of the schools' teaching staffs. Judges were Mrs. Howard Ford and Clarence Pearson of Warren Art League.

THE KINGS AND QUEENS GOLF TOURNAMENT members at CVCC are invited to check the bulletin board at the club, where the pairings and substitutes are listed. Wallace Sedwick, Lord High Parliamentarian, has announced that the first round of matches must be complete on, or before, Friday, June 14th.

THE LEWIS SEARS FAMILY of Russell will be guests at a community farewell in the form of a tureen dinner tomorrow evening at 6:30. The affair is taking place at the Akeley Methodist Church . . . the committee providing meat, rolls and beverage . . . The Sears family has been transferred to Indiana, Penna. Mr. Sears is associated with the Pennsylvania Electric Company.

ON SUNDAY, THE BUCKALOONS will provide the scenic setting for a family picnic which will entertain all Cub Scouts of Webelos Den, Pack 14 of Russell and their families . . . this includes all boys who will be entering Webelos this coming September . . . Bring family sized tureens, table service, rolls and beverage for children. Coffee and dessert will be provided by the committee. The time is 2 p. m.

A SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY was observed recently by Mr. and Mrs. Ross J. Morell of 10 Weld Drive. The former Anne Olson became the bride of Ross J. Morell on May 22nd, 1943, in Wichita Falls, Texas. They are the parents of three sons, Michael, now serving with the Armed Forces in Vietnam, Gregory and Ross, at home.

A GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OPEN HOUSE will be observed at the Woman's Club this Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wertz of 208 Jackson street. Hosts will be their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Preston Briggs. Friends and relatives are cordially invited.

Christian & Missionary Council Attended By 1,661

The Rev. Richard Martin, pastor of the local Christian and Missionary Alliance Church was among the 1,661 clergy and lay delegates registered during the General Council held in Raleigh, North Carolina, from May 15 to 20.

One of the highlights of the Council was the announcement of positive information from Vietnam revealing that Dr. Ardel Vietti, the Rev. Archie Mitchell, and Dan Gerber are alive and well, although still captives six years after being kidnapped by the Viet Cong guerrilla forces near Bannethuot.

Another of the moving experiences of the Council was the tribute given by the president, Dr. Nathan Bailey, in memory of the six Alliance missionaries killed at Bannethuot in the 1968 Tet offensive. The memorial service was a part of the annual Missionary Rally of the Council Sunday afternoon, when approximately 300 young people in the audience offered themselves for possible missionary service with the Alliance, indicating their decision in a very definite way by signing a pledge to place themselves unreservedly at God's disposal for service. Over 175 of these were young people of high school age or above.

The special offering received at the rally for rebuilding, reconstruction and relief in Vietnam totaled more than $125,000, the treasurer, B. S. King, reported. The delegates have approved the General Fund Budget of $5,520,000 for all missionary purposes in 1968, and out of the business sessions also came these results:

The Rev. Robert Cowles, a native of Warren, and a former missionary to the Philippines, was elected editor of The Alliance Witness and secretary of The Alliance Witness Department. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowles of Kinzua road.

The Rev. L. W. Pippert was returned to the position of Secretary of the Home Department although opposed in the election by three candidates.

Dr. Louis L. King, the Foreign Secretary, and Dr. Gilbert Johnson, the Education Secretary were re-elected without contest.

Four ministers and one layman were elected to the Board of Managers: Pastors R. W. Battles, of New York City, and Charles Epperson, of Louisville, Ky.; District Superintendents Leo Berreth, of St. Paul, Minn., and William Newell, of Toronto, Ont.; and Richard Le Tourneau, of Longview, Tex.; Paul Milburn, of Altoona, Pa., was named new president by the Alliance Men's organization, and Mrs. C. J. Mason, of Charlotte, N.C. was elected by the National Women's Missionary Prayer Fellowship.

Results of the 1968 Penn Lakes Girl Scout cookie sale were announced at a cookie committee meeting held May 22. Mrs. William Cohen, Erie, General Chairman reported that a total of 285,069 boxes were sold throughout the Council. This is an increase of 8,793 boxes over last year's sale.

The breakdown according to areas served by the field offices is: Erie, Districts II and III, 151,265 boxes; Warren, District IV, 32,300 boxes; Meadville, District V, 32,532 boxes and Sharon, Districts VI and VII, 68,436. The balance sold were credited to the general cookie cupboard.

Proceeds of cookie sales makes camping possible at council owned and borrowed camp sites all over the council

Grange News

The recent meeting of Warren Grange No. 1025 was highlighted by a memorial service honoring members who have died; Carl Arvid Peterson, Ethel Baldensperger, Gunnard Gustafson and Hartley Johnson. The charter was draped in memory of Mr. Johnson who died May 16.

Chaplain Anna Johnson officiated at the ceremonies, assisted by the Rev. Carl Nelson. Master Myron Rapp presided at the meeting.

Members voted and approved to send Lucille Johnson and Anna Ferrine to the 45th State Grange Leadership School in Gettysburg from June 25 to 27.

The next meeting will be this coming Monday in the Warren Grange Hall at 8 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

Cookie Sale Another Success For Girl Scouts

Results of the 1968 Penn Lakes Girl Scout cookie sale were announced at a cookie committee meeting held May 22. Mrs. William Cohen, Erie, General Chairman reported that a total of 285,069 boxes were sold throughout the Council. This is an increase of 8,793 boxes over last year's sale.

The breakdown according to areas served by the field offices is: Erie, Districts II and III, 151,265 boxes; Warren, District IV, 32,300 boxes; Meadville, District V, 32,532 boxes and Sharon, Districts VI and VII, 68,436. The balance sold were credited to the general cookie cupboard.

Proceeds of cookie sales makes camping possible at council owned and borrowed camp sites all over the council jurisdiction. In 1967, 15.3 per cent of all registered Scouts went to day camp, 2.5 per cent attended resident camp and 45.5 per cent of those eligible (girls 9-17) for troop camping had this type of camping experience. Registrations are now being received for the 1968 opportunities.

Camps Hawthorne Ridge, Bird-sall Edey, Wa-lu-h-l-y, Happy Acres and Rowland are maintained throughout the year for cook-outs, hiking, troop camping and special events. All Girl Scouts in the Council have access to these facilities.

Co-chairmen of the cookie sale for District IV comprising Warren, Forest and part of Erie Counties were Mrs. Frederick H. Maier and Mrs. Thomas W. Herron.

Russell News

The Rev. Ray E. Albaugh will be among the 400 graduates at commencement exercises at the State University College at Fredonia, Saturday evening June 1.

Rev. Albaugh is pastor of the Ripley Methodist Church. He and his wife the former Marian Fox were both former residents of Russell. They have 3 children.

James B. Bairstow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benton Bairstow, a senior at Pa. State University, State College, was inducted into Tau Beta Pi Association of the Pa. Beta Chapter May 14, at a banquet held at the Nittany Lion Inn at State College. Tau Beta Pi is an honorary fraternity of Electrical Engineers, chosen from the upper fifth of seniors in regular engineering. Honor and integrity are fundamentals in Tau Beta Pi. Fully worthy character is a basic membership requirement of the association.

He is also a member of Eta Kappa Nu and Sigma Tau. Mr. Bairstow spent the weekend here with his parents, also his guests, Miss Marian Lilly and Roger Uhl, both from the college.

The Wiltzie Ladies Aid meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Emma Lundmark.

The afternoon was spent in sewing carpet rags.

Mrs. Axel Carlstrom presided at the meeting and Mrs. Henry Petersen invited the group to meet at her home in Warren for the June meeting. The hostess served refreshments.

The Friendship Club met Thursday evening with Mrs. Maynard Dexter. A pleasant evening was enjoyed. The hostess served refreshments to the nine members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosen-dahl and family have moved to their recently purchased farm near Matthews Run.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several months ago our son was involved in a prank which turned into a problem with the police. The boys were not put in jail, but they were reprimanded by the judge and suspended from school for the remainder of the semester. The story made the newspapers and my husband and I were very unhappy about it.

Our son is back in school now and doing beautifully. We have had no trouble with him since that unfortunate episode and think perhaps it helped give him a sense of values.

The problem is this: Six or seven people in our social group keep bringing up the incident—asking questions and probing to learn if there was more to it than the newspaper printed. Whenever the subject is brought up my husband goes into a depression and is quiet for the remainder of the evening.

Please give me a few Landers-type sample sentences to shut these people up. Thank you kindly, Ann. — ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

DEAR ENOUGH: You don't need sample sentences. You need new friends. (I notice you live in Minneapolis. Try some St. Paul people.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 18-year-old daughter has been keeping steady company with a 22-year-old boy who has been married and divorced. When I say steady I mean every night for the past eight months. I have proof that they have been intimate. When I confronted Martha with the evidence several weeks ago she screamed, "We are going to be married next year. Get off my back."

Martha walks with a limp and feels she is lucky to have a boyfriend because of this small defect. I am worn out from trying to talk sense into her head. She accuses me of being old-fashioned and meddling in her personal affairs. Last week Martha threatened to move out of the house and live with her boyfriend if I didn't quit picking on her.

My heart is heavy. I feel as if I have failed desperately. Our two older daughters married fine men and have lovely families of their own. I fear this girl is going to wind up in deep trouble. Should I keep talking to her or should I just give up? — GOING AROUND IN CIRCLES

DEAR GOING: Your daughter knows your speeches by heart so stop wasting your time. Unfortunately, the limp has probably given her a sense of inferiority if not utter worthlessness. Girls who feel worthless often pick bums as boyfriends. Have you considered professional help for her?

Nazarene Church Convention Opens

Dr. Edward Lawlor of Kansas City, Missouri, is the guest speaker in the Holiness Convention running from today through Sunday at the First Church of the Nazarene.

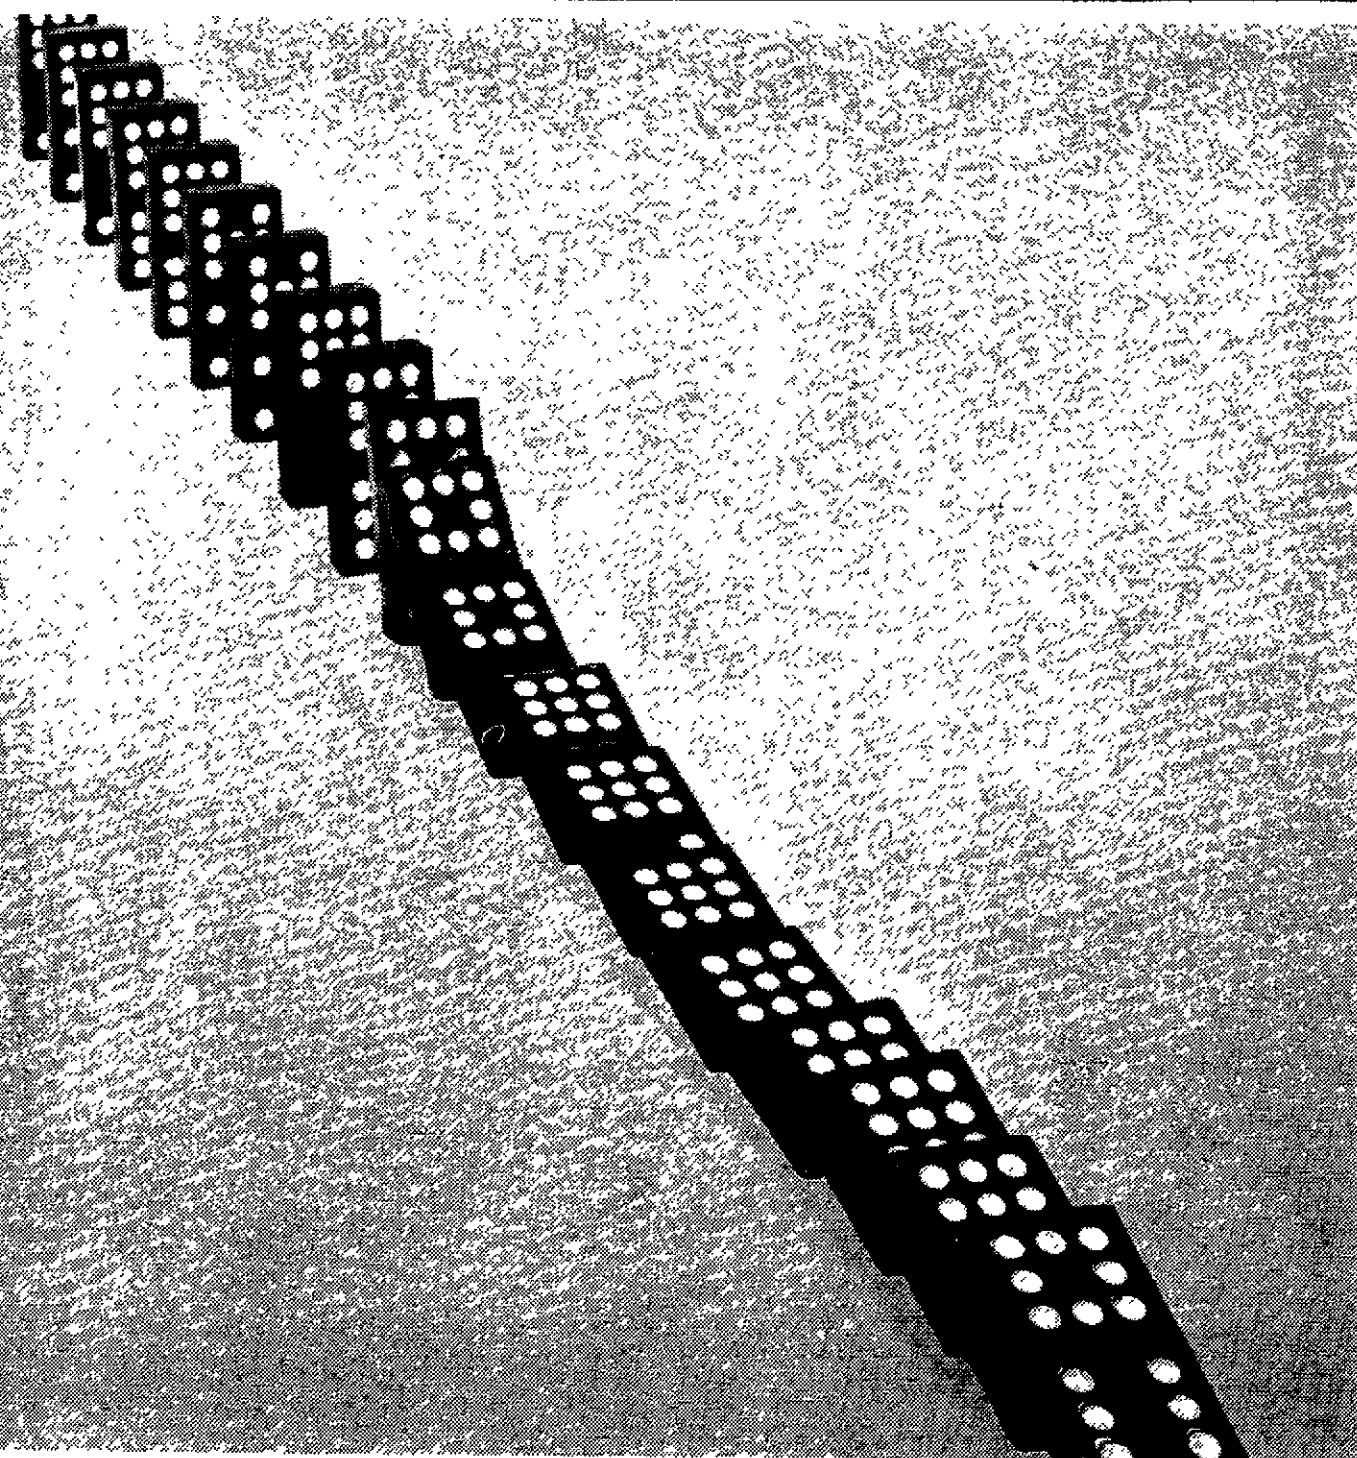

On Sunday, the Church School meets at 9:45 followed by the services of worship at 11. The Church Choir will be directed by Mrs. Glenn Fraser. Dr. Lawlor will bring the morning message. Youth Fellowships meet at 6 p. m. when election of officers will be conducted.

The final service of the Holiness Convention will begin at 7 p. m. Sunday. A sing-spiration and praise time will be supported by the Youth Choir and the special numbers by local talent. After the concluding message by the guest speaker, a class of new members will be received.

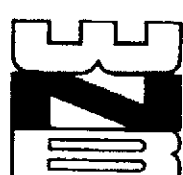

On Wednesday evening at 7, the missionary society will elect its officers to serve in the coming church year.

Need money? We've got it!

The fastest 'yes' in town.

No red tape here. . . . . When we process a loan, we do it fast. So fast, in fact, that sometimes people just call us and tell us what they need . . . and we call them back within the hour with their loan approval. It's not quite like a chain reaction . . . but it's almost like one. Fast action . . . low rates . . . friendly, confidential service . . . these add up to our concept of serving your financial needs the way you like. Maybe that's why most people bank here. Opening lead King of ♠. Today's hand provoked considerable discussion when it was dealt in a recent tournament. The optimum result for North and South is five hearts. However, East and West have a cheap sacrifice available, and where permitted to play a club contract they were able to hold their losses to two diamond tricks and one club. Even a contract of six clubs is down only 300 points, a considerable saving over the 650 points that North and South can register in hearts.

One West player succeeded in making five clubs doubled, when North opened a heart instead of a diamond. West ruffed the lead and after cashing the ace of clubs, he proceeded to establish his spade suit by crisscrossing in spades and hearts as North helplessly followed suit. West was able to discard two of East's diamonds before North could ruff in with the king of clubs. The losses were one diamond and one club.

At one table, the bidding proceeded as indicated in the diagram. West opened with one spade and East chose to pass holding only five points in high cards. Altho South had sufficient strength to make a take-out double, his values were not of a defensive nature and with a virtually self-sufficient suit, a jump bid was clearly indicated. It might have been better strategy to leap directly to four hearts since very little is required of partner to score a game and further competition from the opposition does not appear desirable.

When South did bid three hearts, it presented West with an opportunity to show his second suit. Since it was his intention to reenter the auction despite East's original pass he might just as well have offered his partner a choice of suits. It was naive on his part to assume that he could buy the contract for three spades.

North felt that it might be premature to double his opponent without first showing support for partner, so he raised to four hearts. When West now decided to take a sacrifice, it was no longer feasible to show the clubs economically, and he rebid four spades. North doubled, however, South had no intention of defending and he carried on to five hearts. With the heart finesse working for South, the defense was limited to two spade tricks.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1968.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Re-evaluate goals, aims. Some work will be rewarded soon, some later, but no good effort will be overlooked.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—To understand others and their anxieties will be half the problem. Going your own way regardless can prevent success, actually cause delays. Let cooperation be your byword.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Sound investments will repay soon. Some setbacks are inevitable, but don't let them upset you. Accentuate the positive.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Meetings, agreements, business issues generally call for thoroughness, accuracy. Study suggestions carefully. Your keen mind should help you separate the chaff from the wheat quickly.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Rash moves, hasty decisions could upset an otherwise pleasing day. Maintain equanimity. New benefits indicated.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Exert pressure in difficult areas, but do NOT over-stress. Strive only for the best. You should do well now.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Honesty, reliability (two of your best assets) will carry the day. Keenly observe those little items that tend to get "lost" in the shuffle.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Especially favored now: Intellectual pursuits, financial matters, research, extracurricular studies, outdoor activities. Carefully considered plans should work out well.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—You may be faced with unusual situations, but your innate good judgment, stability of purpose and general know-how will see you through.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Appraise current situations with a broad view. Reduce tensions by talking matters out calmly. Aim only for the worthwhile and you should have a good day.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Planetary aspects suggest that you keep imagination from booming out of bounds. Don't interrupt a sound schedule for sporadic detours toward "attractive" but unprofitable activities.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Opposition should not keep you from carrying out well made plans. If sure you are on the right track, move forward assuredly. And stick with your project!

YOU BORN TODAY are artistic, clever; often achieve best through a combination of alert mind and dexterous hands. You react smartly to situations, are normally an "eager beaver" where ambitions are concerned. And your ideas spring up as from a mighty underground stream. As one idea strikes, others build upon it. Avoid fatigue and adverse speculation. You are a keen writer, promoter, advertiser, artist, specialist in what ever you seriously undertake. Self-mastery a big "must"!

Birthdate of: Walt Whitman, poet; Pope Pius XI.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

A ROSY RASH
One morning Mabel woke up with a red scaly patch on the right side of her chest. The eruption was approximately one inch in diameter, and she immediately thought it was ringworm. The druggist gave her a remedy for ringworm, but the red scaling area slowly continued to enlarge.

About 10 days later, she was horrified; her entire chest was covered with minute red spots. The next day, the rash appeared on her abdomen and back, and extended to the thighs and legs. She consulted her physician and was greatly relieved when told it was pityriasis rosea, and not ringworm.

The doctor told her: "If you develop a skin disease this is the one to get." It is the least bothersome because it is mild, seldom recurs, and all victims recover with or without treatment.

The original lesion is known as the herald or mother spot. After a week or two the rash spreads and follows the folds or lines in the skin. The new patches also are oval, but smaller in size and are pinkish salmon or chamois colored. Slight itching may be noted. A tiny blister may develop in the center of the lesion. When this breaks or dries, the middle area lightens and crinkles like cigarette paper. These daughter spots may develop over any part of the body. But the face, neck, and hands seldom are involved.

The cause is not known. The rash is mildly contagious, however, suggesting a viral origin. It occurs frequently in the spring and fall. Now and then the eruption occurs when a garment is donned that has been stored for some time. Altho the rash lasts for 6 to 12 weeks, it tends to fade after the first few weeks. The individual would not know anything was wrong unless he looked in the mirror.

TOMORROW: More on Salmonella.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CRACKING JOINTS
L. P. writes: What could be causing excessive cracking in the joints? By joints, I mean knees, elbows, shoulders, and wrists. I am a woman in my early 20s.

REPLY
The cracking stems from stretching of the fibrous tissues that surround the joint. When the fingers are pulled, the snapping sound may also originate from within the joint as a result of two moist surfaces separating. I assume that you do not have arthritis.

UNUSUAL CRAMP IN TOES
Mrs. V. writes: I am having trouble with my left foot. I can raise the toes up but have to push them down. Would you have any idea why this is happening?

REPLY
This is unusual because gravity will cause the toes of even a paralyzed foot to drop. In contrast, when a cramp develops in the foot, the toes rise, and it may be difficult to push them down until the muscles relax.

NONSMOKER IN SMOKE
M. H. writes: Would a heart patient suffer ill effects if he sat in a 9 x 12 room for two or three hours in the company of an incessant smoker of long cigars and cigarettes?

REPLY
Nonsmokers also suffer from air pollution and they should leave when the smoke gets too thick.

Baccalaureate Service Sunday

The Rev. Eugene Irwin, pastor of the Free Methodist Church will give the Baccalaureate address during the services held Sunday, June 2, at 4 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Fred Barr, organist, will render the "Prelude in E Minor," by E. L. Ashford, followed by the processional march — "Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar. The Rev. George Campbell, M. E. Church pastor, will give the Invocation and pronounce the Benediction.

The audience is invited to join in the Lord's Prayer and the singing of "America" and "God, Who Touches Earth with Beauty." The school choir will render, "Climb Every Mountain," under the direction of James O. Bodamer, music director, and Mrs. Barr, organist.

Janice McGraw Gets Award

Janice Lynne McGraw, valedictorian of the 1968 graduating class of Tidioute High School, has been given the annual award of the Reader's Digest Association for students who by their successful school work, give promise of attaining leadership in the community. It was announced this week by Harold Guthrie, principal.

Miss McGraw will receive an honorary one-year subscription to the Reader's Digest in any one of the 13 language-editions which she chooses. Also she will receive from the Editors, a personal certificate "in recognition of past accomplishments and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come." These awards are presented in senior high schools throughout the United States to the highest honor student of the graduating class.

This award to Miss McGraw, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGraw of 291 Main st., was made possible through the cooperation of Mr. Guthrie and his teaching staff. They selected Miss McGraw to receive this award, designated to stimulate scholarship, citizenship and continued contact with good reading after graduation.

29 to Graduate From Tidioute High

The 89th annual Commencement of the Tidioute High School will be held in the school auditorium on Thursday, June 6th, at 8 p. m. On this occasion 29 seniors will be presented diplomas by R. Krug Cyphert, vice president, Warren County School Board and Harold D. Guthrie, principal.

The evening program is as follows: Prelude, "Theme and Finale," by Moussorgsky, by the concert band; Processional led by Junior marshals Judith Yucha and Scott McKay to the music of "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar played by the concert band.

The Rev. William Irwin will pronounce both the Invocation and the Benediction. Orations will then be given by Rosemary Kowalski, salutatorian and Janice McGraw, valedictorian followed by "The Swan," C. Saint-Saëns by the concert band.

Mrs. Betty Starrett Richards of the class of '38 Tidioute High School, speaker of the evening, will be introduced by Edward Ziegler, third honor student. Her address will be followed by the presentation of special awards, the Alma Mater, Lisle, by the class of '68, ending with the Recessional, "Pomp and Circumstance" — Elgar.

The 1968 graduates are: Laura

Also Timothy Geras, Sharron Gibson, Thomas Huntington, Sandra Klinefelter, Cynthia Konkle, Rosemary Kowalski, Jack Larimer, Judith Lindell, Janice McGraw, Judy McGuire, Paul Morrison, Sandra Morrison, Walter Morrison, Donald Parr Jr., and Edward Ziegler. Of these 29 graduates the following 10 belong to the National Honor Society: Laura Alberth, Max Anderson, Roseanna Barton, Susan Barton, Cheryl Bosko, Barbara Cook, Cynthia Konkle, Rosemary Kowalski, Janice McGraw and Edward Ziegler. Miss Felicia Passaro is the class advisor.

Music Boosters Plan Social

The Music Boosters for the Tidioute school band are hoping for clear weather and a starlight sky tomorrow night.

They are staging an old fashioned ice cream social with coffee and cake to go with the ice cream, on the lawn of the Bell Telephone building, Saturday, June 1, starting at 7 p. m. Assisting with the affair will be the beneficiaries, the Tidioute school band, who will give a concert at 7:30 p. m. All proceeds are to go for new uniforms for the band.

Spearheading the social is Mrs. Robert (Dorothy) Anderson, the president of the Music Boosters, and her able assistants.

All we can add is that we hope they have chocolate ice cream and chocolate cake, if so, we promise to have seconds.

Tidioute Calendar

MUSIC BOOSTERS — Ice Cream Social, Sat. June 1, 7:30 p. m., on lawn of Bell Telephone Building.

Charles Wilson New Head Of Parent-Teacher Group

By LOIS McCLOSKEY

Chuck Wilson, our next door neighbor, was installed as the new president of the Tidioute school PTA on Tuesday night, May 28. Serving with him are Mrs. Robert Schwab, first vice president, Harold Guthrie, school principal, second vice president, Mrs. Frank Acklin, secretary, and Mrs. Bernard King as treasurer. They were installed by the outgoing president, the Rev. George Campbell.

Prior to the installation, Samuel March, Director of Vocational - Technical Education, Warren County School District, the speaker of the evening, gave detailed plans for the new Vocational-Technical School in Warren which is expected to be in operation by Sept. of 1970.

This new school of which there are now 30 in operation in Pennsylvania, will take students from the 10th, 11th and 12th grades in all of Warren County schools. The students will take all of the required academic courses in their home-town school, have lunch in their own cafeteria, then be bussed to Warren for afternoon classes and return in time to go home on their regular school buses.

Marsh said that the new building to house the voc-tech facilities would cost about $1,800,000 to build and equip, and that our taxes would increase by two to three mills to support it, but that those who graduate will be able to secure and hold better paid jobs and be able to pay the increased millage.

The students who take the three year course will be eligible for college having completed the other academic requirements in their home school, but for those who do not go on to college, about 90 percent of the graduates will be able to secure jobs as master apprentices when they graduate.

At the opening of the new school, students from the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades will be accepted. The juniors and seniors may be able to complete a three year course by attending night school, since night courses are planned for adults.

The school expects to enroll about 400 students, 20 to each class, in about 10 different fields of study. Although cosmetology is usually one of the subjects taught in a Voc-Tech school, Marsh said it had been decided not to offer it in the Warren school since there is presently such a school in Warren. He said it might be difficult to place 20 graduates a year in this area.

When asked about the type of computer to be used in the school, Marsh said it would be impossible with State appropriation, to secure a new machine but that the one to be used would be adequate. Also, since a computer can be used 24 hours

TRAFFIC CODE CHANGED HONOLULU (AP) — Traffic violators in Honolulu no longer face the possibility of a jail sentence for minor traffic offenses.

The Honolulu City Council recently approved the amendment to the city traffic code, and also reduced the maximum fine from $1,000 to $200.

City Councilman Ben F. Kaito said major traffic offenders still will face a possible jail sentence under state law. Kaito said he hopes fewer appeals will be made to Circuit Court where the violator demands a jury trial. He said traffic appeals have been causing jams on the Circuit Court dockets.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Thompson, and daughter visited his folks over the week end at Washington Square, Ohio.

Tuesday evening May 21 the Lilac Rebekahs held a baby shower for Mrs. Ronald Hardy and son. They received many lovely gifts; afterward refreshments were served.

The Bear Lake ambulance took Mrs. Zowa Crochran to the Corry Hospital on Sunday, May 26, and Mrs. George Fowler on Monday May 27.

The Beautification Committee met Monday evening May 27 at the fire hall with President Peggy Osborne presiding at the meeting.

Discussions were held on the coming Labor Day parade, on Queen candidates, floats, and concession stands. They were all put off until next meeting. They also discussed planting flowers around town. The meeting closed with Mrs. Katherine Smith serving refreshments. Next meeting will be June 24.

WARREN COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT
Charles R. Beck, Secretary
May 31, June 7, 14, 1968, 3t.

NOTICE

Sealed bids will be received by the Town Council of the Borough of Warren, Pennsylvania, at a regular meeting of the said Council to be held on the 10th day of June 1968, at 7:30 o'clock P.M. (E.D.S.T.) for the resurfacing of various Borough streets.

The bids will be publicly opened and read at a regularly scheduled meeting of the Borough Council at the above appointed time and place.

Instructions and Information to Bidders, and Specifications, may be obtained from the Borough Secretary at his office in the Municipal Building, Warren, Pennsylvania.

Each bid must be accompanied by a Certified Check or Bid Bond in the amount of five per cent (5%) of the bid, made payable to the Treasurer of the Borough of Warren, Pennsylvania, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a Contract for the work specified, if the bid is accepted within ten (10) days of receipt of the Notice of Acceptance. The Borough Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to accept any item or combination of items contained therein, and also reserves the right to waive any irregularities in connection therewith. Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden. They average about a day and a half in our showroom.

The best reason for buying a Volvo is because it lasts so long. Exactly how long we don't guarantee. But we do know that over 95% of all the Volvos registered in the United States in the last 11 years are still on the road.
The best reason for buying a Volvo now, is because we have a few in stock. And frankly, we don't expect to have them around too long.
Which brings up an interesting paradox about Volvos. Our customers like to buy them because they last. We like to sell them because they don't.
